'NOT BLUFFING,' HE SAYS

Rhee Vows To Reopen War in Korea, With or Without U. S.

Editor's Note: Relman Morin, Associated Press special correspondent, interviewed President Syngman Rhee of South Korea today at the President's home in Seoul. Morin, who won the Pulitzer Prize for Korean war reporting in 1950, has been in the Far East three weeks visiting leaders in Japan and Korea.

By RELMAN MORIN

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today he is determined to reopen the war against the Chinese Reds occupying North Korea, and he warned that if necessary he will go ahead without American support.

"I am not bluffing," he said The President of the Republic of Korea made the statement in an interview with this correspondent.

Except in general terms, he did not specify when he will order his armies to attack, but he said.

"Time is rapidly running out. We shall have to act soon or perish"

In both manner and speech, he gave every evidence that he means what he says He repeated several times: "I am not bluffing. I can't bluff now."

He criticized American policy as "mistaken" in discussing peace with the Chinese and said "Unification through a political conference is ridiculous"

The President gave these reasons for the position he is taking.

1 He is convinced the Chinese themselves will reopen the war whenever they are ready

"They have not given up their ambition for the whole of Korea They will attack again"

2 He believes that the present armistice, like the talks in 1951, is merely to gain time for the military buildup

3 The buildup is in progress, he said "This Communist army has new weapons from the Soviets, including a strong air arm and many giant tanks"

4. Even assuming the Chinese do not attack in the near future—which he does not assume, he said a vivisected Korea cannot live.

He was speaking from a point of view of food, industry and general economics.

Therefore, he said, "we must strike first. It is no war of aggression to liberate part of our own soil. We want only what is our own"

Does he have any fear that a South Korean attack on the Chinese might touch off the third world war?

He smiled grimly and asked:

"If Soviet Russia was not ready to start the third world war when we went to the Yalu River in 1950, why should it start now?"

The President conceded that from a standpoint of supplies and materials the South Korean armies would have "a hard time" He said he hoped that the very least he could expect was support in the form of ammunition, gasoline and the like.

"If the United Nations will simply back us up with that our men will do the fighting" He said he was sure that ROK forces could clear North Korea of the Chinese Actually, most competent American observers in Korea do not believe the ROKs could press an offensive very long without both supplies and air cover from the United States Nevertheless, Rhee said he will "go it alone" whether or not such assistance is forthcoming"

What the ROKs have in the form of stockpiled ammunition and supplies naturally is not publishable. In any case, the President seems completely convinced that there is no alternative open for South Korea

It is generally believed here that his strategy is to let the Western nations discover for themselves that no political agreement is possible with the Chinese. He does not think that will take long

Then if the estimates in Seoul are correct, he will be in a stronger position to urge armed action against the Chinese

A qualified observer said, "Nobody can guarantee he will not then precipitate a situation in which the United States will have to decide whether to back him up"

The same official asked, "Where does that leave Japan? If the Chinese overrun all Korea how long will it be before they cross the straits and go for Japan?"

Judge Denies Mistrial Plea At Mansfield

Prosecutor Accused Of False News Tip In Sternbaum Case

MANSFIELD Ohio (AP) — A motion for mistrial was denied today in the first-degree murder trial of supermarket executive Max E Sternbaum

Defense attorney Paul M Herbert former lieutenant governor, asked for a mistrial ruling on the grounds Prosecutor Theodore Lutz gave false information to the press when he told the Mansfield News Journal Herbert had lunch with the state's "mystery" witness Mrs Margaret Rosenman last Friday.

"The people of this community are saying that Paul Herbert is pulling a fast one," Herberts declared, denying he has ever had lunch with Mrs. Rosenman.

The name of Mrs Rosenman who testified secretly last November before a grand jury which indicted Sternbaum, was disclosed only Monday, when Herbert asked for a subpoena of records of testimony she had given the state fire marshal.

Sternbaum is accused of killing his 31-year-old wife, Leah, in a supermarket office Dec 4 1952 He will be tried later for arson in the fire which swept the office following his wife's death.

Two B36s Fly From Japan

Big Bombers Complete 28-Hour Nonstop Trip

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif (AP)—Two giant B36 bombers landed at Limestone Air Base, in northern Maine, early today after a 28-hour nonstop flight from Japan the 14th Air Division announced

The planes, attached to the Strategic Air Command, were engaged in studies of the "jet streams" in the upper atmosphere These are west-to-east wind currents moving at high speed.

The bombers, from the 5th Heavy Strategic Reconnaissance Wing, stationed at Travis Field, crossed the Pacific Ocean and the North American continent a distance of more than 8 700 miles, without air refueling

They left Yokota Air Base near Tokyo Monday evening, (United States time) and arrived at Limestone shortly before 3 a. m. EST, today.

CAA Requests Suspension of Godfrey Permit

Six Witnesses Testify Entertainer Contacted Tower During Takeoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six persons have testified they heard Arthur Godfrey talk back to the Teterboro, N J, airport control tower after narrowly missing the tower last Jan 7.

All six agreed that when the tower controller asked Godfrey by radio if he had had mechanical trouble the radio-television personality replied

"No that's a normal takeoff for Teterboro"

Asks 30-Day Ban

The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) asked the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday to suspend Godfrey's pilot certificate for at least 30 days, or until Godfrey "obtains an appropriate medical certificate issued by the administrator."

S W. Bobskill, CAA regional attorney, said the CAA gave "due consideration, as a mitigating factor," to Godfrey's past good flying record Nevertheless he said, the public interest requires 'no less action than that"

The CAA contends that Godfrey, annoyed because he had been denied permission to take off on the runway of his choice, deliberately "buzzed" the tower with his twin-engine DC3 It charged that Godfrey thus endangered the tower occupants and the occupants of three airplanes waiting to take off The complaint said Godfrey missed the waiting planes by only 20 to 30 feet

Godfrey Blames Wind

Godfrey has blamed a gusty cross wind for driving his plane off course

Of this the CAA said there were gusts up to 30 miles an hour which might have caused the plane to swerve before it got into the air, but it added

"There is no authority, however that such a wind could have caused the change in the aircraft's bearing once it was airborne"

The case currently is in the hands of CAB safety examiner Albert H Ruppar Ruppar has given Godfrey—who has waived a formal hearing—10 days in which to study the CAA statements and make any additional reply beyond the disclaimer he filed Jan 29

President Voices Fear Help Could Involve America in Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today every move the government takes with respect to aid to Indochina is carefully calculated to keep the United States from getting involved in a hot war there

The President told a news conference he could not conceive of a greater tragedy than for America to get involved in an all-out war there or anywhere.

Stennis Voices Fears

Eisenhower made the statements after Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) voiced fear that the sending of American technicians to help French Union forces in their fight against Communists in Indochina might lead to U S. involvement in the fighting

Eisenhower said every step he authorizes in world affairs is taken as a means of preventing war

But everything that can be done in international affairs involves some risk he added.

As for the recent assignment of 200 American technicians to take care of American-provided planes in Indochina, Eisenhower said they will not be in combat and in any case are scheduled to be withdrawn by next June 15.

Misunderstanding

Asked about statements at the Capitol that the Senate Armed Services Committee was not informed in advance about the technicians being sent, Eisenhower said there appeared to be some misunderstanding on that point. He said he wanted to talk it over with the legislators involved before saying anything in that connection.

He said he makes every effort to discuss every significant action he takes with the proper people in

Move Would Annul North Atlantic Pact

Effort To Wreck EDC Continued by Soviet Spokesman at Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Russia proposed today a non-aggression pact among all the nations of Europe including both Communist East Germany and the Bonn Republic. It would annul the North Atlantic Alliance.

Soviet Foreign Minister V M. Molotov laid the plan for "European security" before the Big Four conference. It was his most detailed effort to torpedo the West European Defense Community.

The proposed 50-year general security treaty would bind all the nations of Europe to "peace" East and West Germany were specifically listed as eligible as individual powers until the nation eventually is unified

Molotov spelled out a treaty that would be open to all states of Europe regardless of "their social systems" He stated the non-aggression terms would be carried out according to these principles of the United Nations Charter

Any attack against one nation in Europe would be regarded as an attack against the entire treaty bloc. All parties would be bound to come to the rescue of the nation attacked, including the use of armed forces

The significant anti-European army clause in the Russian plan read

"The parties undertake not to

Democratic Aid Needed

Ike Warns Party Against Extremes in Partisanship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today counseled members of his administration to avoid extreme partisanship in their remarks about Democrats, and said he would expect the Republican National Committee to show similar tolerance

The President told a news conference the times are too serious to indulge in political partisanship to an extreme

He said too it is obvious some parts of his legislative program will need Democratic support if they are to get through Congress

The President's remarks were touched off by the recent flurry of protest by Democrats, including House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas, that the Republicans have been making 'dastardly" attacks on the previous administration

The Democrats had called on Eisenhower to repudiate such attacks

The Democrats were particularly indignant over speeches by Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) and others which, in their view, sought to link all Democrats with Communist or other treasonable activities in the past

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax writers said today they will reject only one major point in President Eisenhower's 25-point program for streamlining tax laws and giving individuals and business more than two billion dollars in annual reductions

Action by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday, approving a new tax cut for farmers brought to 19 the number of White House proposals already approved in less than a month s work on the big overhaul job

But both Republicans and Democrats on the committee agreed there isn't a chance that the committee will accept one remaining point

This request—complex but significant—called for shifting corporation income taxes so that corporations would make four equal quarterly payments. Two of the payments in effect would be an advance on the next year's bills.

Under present law, most corporations will pay all of their 1953 tax bill in two equal payments this year, due on March 15 and June 15

The result is that funds pour into the Treasury the first half of the calendar year, but returns are skimpy the last half This is one of the big factors that led the

Congressman Plans Appeal Of Conviction

Legislator Said Guilty Of Accepting Kickback From Office Employes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers for Rep Bramblett (R-Calif) promised a legal fight today all the way to the Supreme Court, if necessary, to try to overturn his conviction on charges of falsifying his congressional office payroll in a salary 'kickback" scheme.

Bramblett had nothing to say after a federal court jury brought in its verdict against him yesterday, but his attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, told newsmen. "This conviction won t stand"

The jury deliberated about an hour and 40 minutes before convicting Bramblett on several payroll charges.

Bramblett 52 is serving his fourth term in the House His home is in Pacific Grove, Calif

After each juror verified the verdict at Williams' request, the defense lawyer asked U S District Judge Walter M Bastian to allow Bramblett to remain free under $2,500 bail The judge agreed.

Next Williams asked the judge to set aside the verdict, but the judge told him to put this in writing along with his other motions including one for a new trial

Bramblett will not be sentenced until all motions have been disposed of Each of the seven counts on which he was convicted carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a fine of $10,000 but the maximum is rarely imposed

Selling Russia Surplus Farm Crops Banned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks announced today the government will not allow the sale of government stocks of surplus farm products to Russia or her satellites.

Sewer Issues Killed by Vote At Cardington

CARDINGTON — Cardington village voters in a special election Tuesday turned down 328 to 37 a referendum issue which would have provided $300,000 for the construction and operation of a sanitary sewage system and disposal plant.

This action places the village council in the position of determining how they can provide for the construction of the sewage system by June 30, which is the deadline set by the Ohio Pollution Board.

A year and a half ago the state board told the village council a system would have to be installed. At that time the council was granted a year's extension to comply with the request. A six month's additional extension of time was granted in January, G. W. Matthews, council clerk, reported.

After June 30 the state board can impose a $500 a day fine if the village does not comply with its order.

Last November the village council passed an ordinance providing for the bond issue to be divided into $200,000 in revenue bonds and $100,000 in special assessment bonds. A petition asking for a referendum vote to block this move was filed with the Morrow County board of election. It was on this referendum that village residents voted yesterday.

The village council will meet Monday to determine its next step in this matter.

administration to seek an increase in the national debt limit.

Unsettling Influence

Eisenhower, outlining this point in his budget message, said, "The irregularity of tax receipts increases the problems in managing the public debt and is an unsettling influence in the money markets. (It) also may make it harder for corporations to manage their own financing."

But committee members who asked not to be quoted by name said many corporations are strongly opposed to the change. They added the proposal looks "dead as a doornail" so far as their committee is concerned.

One other big remaining point is a proposal to change the deadline for filing individual tax returns from March 15 to April 15. Committee members said this seems certain to be approved.

The tax change for farmers would permit deductions for expenses for soil and water conservation practices—an estimated 10 million dollar annual saving.

Deductions in any one year would be limited to 25 per cent of a farmer's gross income. But expenses not deductible in one year, because of that limit, could be carried over and deducted in later years.

Cold Snap Likely To End Mild Spell

By The Associated Press

The northern states got light snow or snow flurries and a little colder air, but generally mild winter weather continued in most parts of the country today.

The cold air from central and western Canada headed into the border states and temperature drops were predicted for most of the Midwest by tomorrow.

Light snow or flurries fell today in sections of New York State and New England. Light snow also was reported in the northern Rockies. It was cloudy in the eastern Great Lakes region, but generally fair weather was reported in other areas.

Watchmakers Testify at Hearing

First Shots Fired in Bitter Tariff Fight

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first round in this year's bitter tariff fight opened this week.

It's a grudge fight that has been going on for at least 20 years. It's over the price and origin of the new watch you'd like to buy for yourself or your child's graduation present. Or maybe the one your boss will buy for you after you've worked for him 50 years.

The tariff commission opened hearings on whether the present levy of around 37 per cent on imports of swiss watches and watch movements should be hiked by 50 per cent.

Three American watch companies, Elgin, Hamilton and Waltham, say Swiss imports, which have mushroomed since World War II, injure their business—and by doing so are a threat to national security.

They contend only by maintaining a healthy American watch industry can watchmakers be trained, or retain their skills. In wartime these skills must be used quickly to make precise electronic devices and delicate timing devices for missiles and machines of war.

They argue they cannot compete with the Swiss, pricewise, because American skilled labor is so much more highly paid. Unless the tariff is raised they say they cannot compete and the U. S. industry, and skill, may lapse.

Opposed to these three companies are other watchmakers who depend to more or less extent on the highly developed Swiss industry.

Some of them, like Bulova and Gruen, run plants in both the United States and Switzerland.

Others, like Longines-Wittnauer and Benrus, import Swiss watches and movements which they assemble and distribute here.

They admit they can produce more cheaply than the Americans, but say that in real wages (the food, clothing and shelter a man can buy for what he's paid an hour) the difference between Swiss and American wage scales isn't as great as it seems.

They deny they're a threat to the American industry under present tariff levels. As an example, they point to the $10.75 duty paid on an imported 21-jewel watch, which gives the American companies a good advantage. About half of the American output lies in this field, the Swiss say.

The importers also argue their technicians in this country are highly trained, too, and furnish a big pool of skilled labor for use in wartime. They say that in the last war their defense contracts totaled 70 million dollars.

Dishwasher Is Held for Killing Of Bodenheim

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold Weinberg, 25-year-old dishwasher, admitted today that he shot writer Max Bodenheim, found slain last Sunday with his wife, police announced.

The announcement came a few minutes after Weinberg, a fugitive since the bodies were found in a squalid East Side room, had been hustled into a police station.

The prisoner had not yet been questioned concerning the fatal stabbing of Bodenheim's wife, 35-year-old Ruth Fagan, police said.

Police Lt. Edward J. Drum Jr., told reporters:

"Weinberg admits shooting Bodenheim but he has not been questioned yet about the stabbing of the woman."

Weinberg was found hiding, police said, in the basement of a tenement, about a mile from the dingy scene of the killings.

The capture of Weinberg broke rapidly soon after police had received two new conflicting rumors that the scar-faced ex-convict had been seen in Fall River, Mass., and Savannah, Ga.

Bodenheim, purple-penned novelist and Bohemian poet of Greenwich village in the 1920s, and his wife were found dead in a $5-a-week room that had been rented in Weinberg's name three weeks ago.

Weinberg had been last seen on Saturday night, at about the time an autopsy fixed as the hour of the Bodenheim deaths.

Weinberg was known as a ne'er-do-well companion of the impoverished and almost-forgotten eccentric writer.

enter any coalition or alliance or conclude any agreement, the purpose of which would contradict the purposes of the treaty on collective security in Europe."

Moscow has consistently maintained that the West, in rearming West Germans through the European Defense Community (EDC), is aiming a warlike dagger at the Soviet Union.

With a second secret session awaiting them tomorrow and the Austrian independence treaty due to be taken up Friday, Molotov asked at the close of yesterday's meeting for at least one day more to tell his weary fellow ministers what a brilliant future all Europe could have under Soviet leadership.

The Westerners felt there was little that could be fundamentally new in Molotov's proposal, but they were obliged to hear him out so no one could accuse the West of passing up any chance of agreement.

'Preparation for War'

Yesterday, as he had done before, Molotov referred to the European Defense Community Treaty as a divisive force covering only six nations—West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—and leaving other European nations out in the cold. He contended EDC was "a preparation for war" against Russia.

French Foreign Minister Bidault accused Molotov of trying to wreck the EDC alliance while at the same time preserving the tight alliance of Russia and the East European satellites.

Bidault did not mention it, but one of the West's growing concerns is an estimate by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther's NATO headquarters that Russia has helped her Red European neighbors to build up at least 60 divisions of increasingly effective and well-armed troops, some mechanized. Unless British and American divisions are included, there is no comparable force in West Europe.

Opposes Blocs

"We should not think of setting up West European states against East European states," Molotov said at one point during his 90 minutes on the floor.

"The people of Europe and their true friends outside Europe are interested in having security guaranteed to all European peoples to the same extent.

"The task is to secure peace and security to the people of Europe, to contribute to the strengthening of general peace and to make possible collective efforts of all European states which strive for the realization of these aims."

Vatican Indicates Pope Continuing To Gain Strength

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican again today reported improvement in the condition of Pope Pius XII, confined to his apartment for the past 20 days with a serious stomach ailment.

The Vatican press office said the Pontiff now is able to take some "semiliquid nourishment orally" and also was able to walk about his apartment yesterday.

Previously the Pope had difficulty retaining even liquids and had been able to sit up only for a short while daily.

He was still too weak, however, to resume saying his daily mass at his private chapel in his Vatican apartment. Again today he listened as mass was celebrated at his bedside upon a portable altar by the Rev. William Hentrich, a German priest who is one of the Pope's private secretaries.

The President told newsmen, in response to a question, that he will counsel officials of the executive department against engaging in extreme partisanship.

And, responding to another question, he said he believes that would be a good course for the Republican National Committee to follow.

And some GOP members had deprecated the threat of Democratic refusal to support legislative moves they approved in the past.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), for one, said he did not believe Republican criticism alone would cause any substantial number of Democrats in congress to oppose the President's legislative program.

Galion School Board Orders Books Banned

GALION—Three supplementary reading books have been temporarily removed from the shelves of the school library here as a result of a heated discussion at the city school board meeting Monday night.

The books, "Anthony Adverse" and "Toward the Morning" by Harvey Allen and "Native Son," a best seller by Richard Wright, were described as being on a "low moral level" by school board member, Charles Cunningham. The novels were turned over to Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of the First Evangelical and Reformed Church here and president of the Galion Ministerial Association, for "review." Rev. Elliker was asked to report the association's findings to Cunningham. The Galion pastor was the guest minister at this meeting and had opened the session earlier in the evening with prayer.

A motion was then made by board member Russell Nichols to provide for the establishment of a committee, to be approved by the board president, which would review all textbooks, library books, reference and supplementary reading books. The proposed motion caused considerable controversial discussion by the board members until Robert Ricksecker requested time to study the motion for a book screening committee. He suggested that the motion be presented in writing for consideration at the March meeting.

Putting the book, "Native Son," on the table in front of other school board members, Cunningham told them that a Galion teacher had advised a teenage student to "read this; it'll do you good." Cunningham declared the book, "reeked with filth." He then called the attention of the board to the other two books.

In addition to the proposed book screening program, the board also passed a resolution to establish a screening committee comprised of board members who will interview applicants before new school personnel are hired. The screening committee will be appointed by the board president.

Flanders

gineering Co., will introduce Sen. Flanders.

Republican state candidates, or their representatives, will be present and will be introduced during the program. Pronouncing the invocation and benediction will be Rev. W. A. Huff, pastor of Oak Knoll Baptist Mission.

Sen. Flanders was appointed to the Senate on Nov. 1, 1946, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Sen. Warren R. Austin, and is currently serving the second year of his second six-year term.

He was born in Barnet, Vt., on Sept. 28, 1880, and following graduation from high school became a machinist apprentice. He has served the machine tool industry in various capacities of journeyman, draftsman, designer, editor, engineer and executive. He has also been president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Since being a senator he has served as member of the following committees: banking and currency, post office and civil service, finance, armed services, and joint committee on the president's economic report.

Watt reported today that a few tickets for the dinner were still available at the recorder's office on the second floor of the Courthouse.

University Starts Study Of U.S. Criminal Justice

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—The American Bar Association has embarked on the first research project in its history with a comprehensive study at the University of California on administration of criminal justice in the United States.

The project, which started last Nov. 13, is expected to last five years. Three will be given to compiling data and two to formulating recommendations to be presented to the association.

Phases of criminal justice to be studied are reporting of an offense, local, county, state and national policing and prosecuting agencies, court, probation and parole procedures.

A Ford Foundation grant of $50,000 is financing the study. Arthur H. Sheery, professor of law and crimonology at California, is research director.

AMUSEMENT NOTE

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP) — The earliest known record of public entertainment in Kentucky, and possibly west of the Appalachians, was carried in the Kentucky Gazette of May 31, 1797. The newspaper announced that "room for exhibition purposes," had been erected adjoining Coleman's Tavern for "an exhibition of tumbling, balancing on the slack wire, slack rope walking, and dancing. Admission to the pit, 2 shillings, to gallery 2 shillings, 2 pence. Doors open at sunset, performance beginning at dark."

Assault on Capital Held Off

Rebel Troops Delay Drive On French Force in Laos

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Fifteen hundred Vietminh rebels were reported 6 to 12 miles from Luang Prabang today but the French said they were only lining up supplies for the bulk of the Communist-led forces threatening the royal capital of Laos.

The French maintained most of the 12,000 rebels who invaded the Indochinese kingdom of Laos last week still were 50 miles north of Luang Prabang, resting up in the valley around Nam Bac.

Believe Assault Held Off

Military observers believed the invaders, after covering 120 miles through mountainous jungle, had stopped to recuperate and replenish their supplies. There was speculation any assault on Luang Prabang might not come before early next week.

Both in Saigon and Hanoi, the two major French command centers, the belief flourished that the Vietminh might not even attack the hometown of Laos' aged King Sisavang Vong. The rebels last spring marched up almost to the royal doorstep, then withdrew without trying an assault.

But the French conceded that even if the Vietminh did not follow through on their current threat, they already had forced the French-Laotian forces to withdraw from the northern part of the kingdom and had immobilized several battalions in Luang Prabang.

The Vietminh advance troops were reported at Pak Hou, 12 miles north of the capital, and at Pak Suong, six miles to the northeast.

Rebels Use River

There were reports also that rebel troops had taken to the Hou River, which flows into the Mekong north of Luang Prabang. The French said rafts had been seen on the Hou but that bad weather for the past three days had kept the French air force from observing the river traffic closely.

Elsewhere in Indochina:

The French for the first time announced that 105 American Air Force technicians and mechanics had arrived a week ago at the north Indochina port of Haiphong to help maintain U.S.-furnished planes "for civilian cargoes."

These presumably were in addition to 125 Air Force technicians previously reported in Indochina to aid the French. In all, 200 more Americans were expected for this work.

Indochina

Congress, and declared there is no attempt to carry on any policy in the dark.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview he favors immediate recall of the U. S. mechanics as a move to avoid possible direct involvement in the long anti-Communist war there.

Favors Monetary Aid

Declaring that "I'm no isolationist," he said he believes a majority of the Senate Armed Services Committee opposed sending the mechanics into Indochina. He added he favors increased American aid in money and equipment.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), in a separate interview, called it a "risky step" to send the mechanics. He, too, said members of the Armed Services Committee were not informed in advance, and that they were told of the plan by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at a secret session last Friday.

That followed publication of newspaper accounts saying 125 or more technicians had been sent.

Byrd said the next steps would be requests by the French for U.S. pilots and ground forces in Indochina, adding he would oppose that. Secretary of Defense Wilson told a news conference yesterday the fighting is going satisfactorily, and that he sees no need to step up American aid.

Doubts Wisdom of Move

Sen. George (D-Ga) of the Foreign Relations Committee said he "doubts it was a wise move" to send in the mechanics. He agreed with Stennis that if the United States should send fighting forces into Indochina, Red China probably would send in forces as it did in Korea.

Wilson said yesterday that unless the Red Chinese intervene on a mass scale, or some similar new factor enters the picture, he thinks chances are good for a military victory in the eight-year war.

Republican Leader Knowland of California told the Senate Monday night the Eisenhower administration had no desire or intention of sending combat forces into Indochina.

Stennis told the Senate yesterday that Radford's report to the Armed Services Committee caused "almost unanimous alarm and grave concern" among senators present.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), the committee chairman, said he first learned of the plan in newspapers, and he added:

"I was disturbed when I read that 200 uniformed mechanics of our Air Force were to be sent."

Saltonstall said he had been assured by Wilson that the "200 will be out of Indochina by June 12."

If the American people want to get involved in the Indochina war that is all right, Stennis said, adding:

"But I do not want to see them committed step by step, so that eventually they will have no choice but will be compelled to go in . . .

"Step by step, we are leading to a situation in which we may have no choice except to go in there with ground troops."

BOND ISSUE LOSES

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Washington Court House residents, voting yesterday on a $736,000 bond issue for new schools, defeated the issue by a vote of 2,116 against to 998 for the issue. A 60 per cent favorable vote was required for passage. The local school board had planned new school buildings if the issue got approval.

Hotbox Upsets Fast 14-Car NYC Mail Train Near Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A speeding New York Central mail and express train derailed at nearby Fairborn early today, throwing the locomotive and all 14 cars from the track.

A spokesman for the railroad said no one was injured. There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

The spokesman said the derailment was caused by a hotbox in the car immediately behind the locomotive.

The train was bound for Cincinnati from Cleveland. It left Columbus at 12:52 a. m. The accident occurred shortly after 2 a. m.

All westbound trains using the track where the derailment happened were being re-routed, the spokesman said. Eastbound traffic was not affected.

NYC Directors Study Young's Bid for Control

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of the New York Central went into session today to consider Robert R. Young's demand for chairmanship and control of the nation's second biggest railroad.

William White, president, arrived early to preside over the crucial meeting of the 15-man board, but avoided newsmen.

An aide said:

"Mr. White is unavailable for comment on the new development that Robert R. Young is demanding the chairmanship as well as membership on the board for himself and Mr. Kirby."

Young also is asking for a board seat for his old-time financial ally, Allan P. Kirby.

"Mr. White might be busy all day—this may be an all-day session," said the aide.

If Young's demands are refused, according to a reliable source who asked not to be identified, Young will come here tomorrow to launch a proxy fight for control of the Central. Young would spurn the directorships unless he is made chairman as well, the scource said.

A refusal by the Central could lead to one of the epic railroad wars of the nation's history.

Crowd at McCarthy Talk Is Taunted; Police Called Out

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four thousand persons, after hearing Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) castigate Communist conspiracy in high places, came out of the First Congregational Church last night to be greeted as "McCarthyites" over a mobile loud speaker system.

Jibes and taunts were too much for some in the crowd and they converged on their critic, whom police identified as Wilbur Joseph Jerger. He had set up his speaker on private property adjoining the church. Several clods of dirt were thrown at him and one man brandished a tire wrench.

About 20 police in 10 cars answered a riot call. Officers induced Jerger to stop his remarks and leave under protective escort. They said Jerger has filed for both the Democratic and Socialist Party nominations for Congress in the 26th California District.

The President had some strong words for American policy with respect to Japan too. He said:

"The problem is simply this: because the Communists are threatening the world, the United States wants Japan to be a strong bulwark in the Far East. The peril is so great that the United States forgets Japan was an aggressor nation very recently. Or else the United States has deceived herself into believing a few years of occupation changed the Japanese.

Japs Still Ambitious

"The Japanese have not changed. They still are ambitious to dominate all of Asia and they have not become pro-American either. They realize they failed last time and they are reviewing their mistakes so they will not make the same ones again."

He said, "To build up a strong front against Communist and other aggression—and by that I mean the Japanese—the United States should strengthen Korea militarily as she strengthened Japan."

He said this would achieve the double purpose of blocking the Communists and "act as a deterrent to Japan's secret aims."

The President said of the broader question, "It appears our allies do not think unification is worth the cost." On the contrary, he said, a decisive defeat for the Communists in Korea "might turn the tide and save the world."

Topsy Turvy

By George Sokolsky

When recently I suggested that if coffee is too expensive, tea might be used, I also said that if tea becomes costly, we might switch to beer for breakfast. Whereupon my mail became swollen with anger.

SOKOLSKY

First of all, the milk people set forth the argument that milk, cream, butter and cheese supply the essentials of any breakfast. There can be no two ways about that, provided one enjoys milk, etc.

My own objection to milk and milk products is that I like them too rich and too much. Given a free hand at any refrigerator, I can put on 20 or 30 pounds in almost no time. Skimmed milk I do not like.

The Chinese prefer "chuck" for breakfast. For many years I ate "chuck," occasionally with cut-up bits of doughnut-like cake.

"Chuck," if properly made, is a rice and chicken soup cooked for many hours until it is a thick gruel. When I used to cook it, I would include bits of fresh ginger and lotus hearts.

SOME OF MY correspondents quarreled with me about beer at the breakfast table. My severest critics were those who attributed to me such virtuous perfections as no man should possess.

Nevertheless, here is a very early breakfast food, used for centuries before Euopeans tried coffee which was propagated by returning Crusaders who encountered the liquid.

"The English House-Wife," published in London in 1649, tells how oatmeal might be used for breakfast:

"Some eat it with hony, which is reputed the best sauce; some with wine, either Sacke, Claret or White; some with strong Beere or strong Ale, and some with Milke as your ability or the accommodations of the place will administer."

I have never tried beer on oatmeal and suspect that I never shall, but I produce this paragraph from E. Parmalee Prentice's learned book, "Farming for Famine," as evidence that human beings have used beer as a breakfast food.

Coffee for breakfast came in some time at the beginning of the 17th century but was used without milk, as it still is in Oriental countries. In fact, milk was for many centuries dreaded in most parts of Europe and in some parts of Asia is still not used. In China, the curds of the soy bean are preferred even to this day.

I received a letter from one reader complaining bitterly that I was misleading mankind by suggesting tea as a breakfast food when according to this reader, everybody knows that coffee is "the universal breakfast beverage."

HOW VAIN can mortals be? More than half the human race uses tea not only for breakfast but as its principal hot beverage. In fact, the entire Soviet Universal State is tea-drinking, the Russians having contracted the habit from the Chinese many centuries ago.

The caravans that carried tea from Hankow to all the cities of Russia were famed in the days of the czars and the greatest merchants were those who dealt in tea. Odessa, celebrated for wheat, was also a tea port, as Boston, Philadelphia and New York were at the time of the American Revolution.

In my youth, coffee was cooked, as it is now in some parts of Europe and in New Orleans, with chicory, which fortifies the coffee, making it possible to purchase less expensive brands without losing the flavor.

In fact, those who like coffee with chicory care for no other. Out of this brew is made coffee au lait, to mix a couple of languages. This is a delightful beverage which reduces the cost of coffee considerably as half the cup is boiling hot milk. The milk and coffee are poured into the cup simultaneously.

Vienese coffee au lait is usually regarded as the best, possibly because the milk is so rich, although I enjoy the New Orleans variety, particularly if fresh doughnuts are dunked in it.

THERE IS ONE queer thing about the present coffee crisis: while prices are going up because Brazilian coffee bushes suffered a frost, there is no shortage of coffee in the stores.

If there is no shortage of coffee, why should the price go up? It is difficult to understand the economics of that because generally price reflects the law of supply and demand.

Perhaps in the middle of the 20th century everything is topsy-turvy because politicians, not merchants, move the goods that we use.

University of Missouri Officials Talk to Truman

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman planned to meet with University of Missouri officials today to discuss the possibility of housing his private papers at the university.

He said at Kansas City last night the university arranged the meeting and he was coming here "simply to see what they have to say."

Truman said his visit here had no connection with reports that he might become president of the school.

By Victor Riesel

Now here is a powerful labor chief who was perfectly willing to go up the Hill and talk at length to a Midwest congressman to get help in securing the release of an extortionist and terrorist from jail. That same union official, unlike so many of his colleagues, refuses to go up the same Hill to talk to a Senate committee about new labor laws. It would be a waste of time, says he.

RIESEL

I refer to one Dick Gray, head of the AFL's 3,000,000-member Construction Trades Union, who is the type of old-line labor chief whose tactics give other union leaders such a hard time.

Some time ago, this Dick Gray walked into the office of Wisconsin's Rep. Charles Kerstwn with a sob story.

Gray had a friend by the name of Joe Fay. Fay got a bum rap, he said, but was a model prisoner and would the congressman please intervene to get this poor fellow (who had extorted a mere $750,000) out of Sing-Sing. That was Gray's story.

NOW THIS SAME Dick Gray tells off the Senate Labor Committee, which had the decency to invite him to testify on President Eisenhower's proposed revisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Gray wrote to the committee that it is "impossible to intelligently discuss" the matter at this time.

Just what is this matter he is talking about? Something called "pre-hire contracts." Under this type of contract the builder signs with the union before he has hired the thousands of construction workers needed to handle a multi-million dollar job. Then the men must join the union to get work at the project.

The point is not whether "pre-hire union contracts" are bad or good for the community. There's a considerable amount of difference of opinion on this subject.

Sen. Taft was for the "pre-hire" agreements. So are Ike's labor advisers.

But here is a labor leader who disdains public relations and arrogantly refuses even to discuss the matter with the U.S. Senate. Yet there is much to discuss. If some of Mr. Gray's construction trades colleagues are to have the right to sign "pre-hire contracts," they should, at the very least, clean their own ranks of the regional goons who have been terrorizing contractors, other union officials and their rank-and-file members as well.

TELL YOU WHY it must be discussed. Here it is in the words of U.S. Attorney General Brownell:

"When the gangster dominates a building trade, demands extortion from the contractors, the building costs increase proportionately without any compensating addition to the community's wealth.

"When the racketeer on the wharf demands his pay-off before his union will unload a cargo of perishable fruit, you, the nation's consumers, pay the price in your weekly grocery bill. We have no means of adequately assessing the total cost — or the total loss — which this criminal activity imposes on the nation's economy through these perversions of bona fide unionism.

"Fortunately labor leaders already are taking steps to block the infiltration of the racketeer, as they have in the past taken steps to block Communism," said Brownell.

I'D LIKE to know what steps Dick Gray has taken inside the Construction Trades to match those of AFL president George Meany and Seafarer Paul Hall on the waterfront.

There are crime experts who report that shakedowns by labor racketeers, in the construction field, working with crooked inspectors and shady politicos, add at least five percent to the cost of your new home — be it in an apartment house or in one of the nation's suburbs.

The cost, to you, the people, is still higher on skyscrapers, army bases, highways and huge government projects. Work on these projects is always under pressure of vital deadlines.

The projects spring up in areas where the local union chief is all-powerful and may have had only a small membership. Under the "pre-hire" clause, the contractors, or the government, must deal with him. He, therefore, becomes the labor supplier.

If he's clean, nobody gets hurt. If he's crooked, he makes big money and everybody gets hurt.

MR. GRAY need only look at St. Louis for an example. There a special assistant U.S. Attorney General Max H. Goldschein, who cracked the Costello crowd, will soon open hearings on construction trades rackets. Some 18 construction trades union officials have already been indicted there.

A special Federal Grand Jury, following Judge Fred L. Whem's instructions, is probing reports of labor racketeering in and around the 160 million dollar, atomic electric plant at Joppa, Ill.

Hardly a waste of time, Brother Gray! Silence can only hurt labor's cause.

Goldfish Watching

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Some husbands get restless in the home after dinner.

They stomp and storm around the place, finding fault with everything and making a general nuisance of themselves to their wives, all because they don't have anything to do.

HAL BOYLE

No, they don't want to go to a movie. No, they don't feel like looking at television. There isn't a decent murder being shown. No, they don't feel like going down in basement and working with their new carpentry tools.

—:—

"I'VE MADE so many bookends, I can't even give them away to the neighbors," they brood.

A husband on a restless evening can be as trying as an ailing child on a rainy day. What can a wife do to keep her big bored lumlox happy?

Some wives pacify their husband by buying him a goldfish to watch. Whenever he starts ranting and roaring after being fed his evening meal, the wife tells him soothingly, "Now you're just working yourself into an uproar over nothing. There, there. Why don't you run over like a good little husband and watch your pretty goldfish for a while?"

The trouble with goldfish watching as a pastime is it either takes too much of a hold on a man—or else he quickly loses interest in it. If goldfish watching gets a real grip on a husband, it can be worse than drinking or gambling. The relaxation becomes a vice. The victim loses interest in his wife, his children, and his job as he becomes more and more absorbed in watching his goldfish.

DON'T WE ALL know husbands who began goldfish watching innocently enough, then began demanding fish food to eat, just like their finny pet, and later began secretly coming down to the goldfish bowl in the dead of night, carrying a candle so they could watch it some more? The only sure way for a wife to break up a situation like this is to swallow the goldfish herself and blame it on the cat.

Other husbands, on the other hand, are simply made more nervous and exasparated than ever by watching a goldfish. They often get the idea the goldfish is beginning to watch them.

"What is that gilded baby whale of yours trying to find out about men?" they ask their wife. "Everywhere I go in the room it follows me with that cunning, fishy look. Is this a home we live in or an aquarium?"

My theory is that a wife had better forget all about goldfish watching, buy her husband a bowling ball, and get him to join the nearest bowling league.

BOWLING HAS A number of advantages over goldfish watching as a way of calming down husbands. It is also cheaper and safer than either hunting or fishing. Few men ever drown on a bowling alley or are shot to death accidentally by someone who mistook them for a deer.

The best thing about bowling is that it gets a husband out of the house one night a week, and enables him to satisfy a man's normal desire to destroy things. They show him a shining alley with 10 bright wooden pins in perfect pattern at the end. They hand him his bowling ball and say, "See if you can smash 'em all down, big fellow."

For the rest of the evening he wears himself out crashing the ball into the pins, destroying the too-perfect pattern, sending them flying. He is as happy as a small boy who is given a fistful of rocks in a greenhouse and told to break as many windows as he wants to. He comes home tired, but cheerful and realxed. It has been just the kind of evening he needed.

BUT WHAT ABOUT the wife? What should she do while her husband is out renewing his youth in a bowling alley? After all, you can't expect her just to sit at home and do nothing, can you?

No, indeed. Many wives have turned to goldfish watching. They now watch the goldfish they once bought their husband before he found it was more fun to go bowling.

Some goldfish find it makes them nervous to be watched by wives, but that is just too bad, and nothing can be done about it. Once you buy a goldfish you can't just let it go to waste, can you? Somebody has to watch it.

Six From Harding To Participate

Students To Attend Model Legislature

Six Harding High School youths have been chosen to attend the third annual YMCA Ohio Model Legislature meeting in Columbus April 23 through 25.

The six will attend a pre-legislative training conference Saturday at Toledo University. This is one of five similar meetings in the state. In this particular one representatives from Hi-Y, Junior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in northwest Ohio will choose a slate of nominees for the various state offices, and lay plans for the Columbus meeting.

REPRESENTING the "Y" clubs from Marion are three delegates, each with an alternate. The Senior Hi-Y Club elected Robert Knachel, 17, of 222 S. Grand Ave. as delegate and James Kratzer, 17, of 160 John St., alternate The Junior Hi-Y Club chose Dick Renn, 17, 653 Davids St delegate, and Walter Rissler, 16, of 331 S Vine St. as alternate. The Tri-Hi-Y selected Carol Bachman, 17, of 607 King Ave, as delegate, and Carol Morgan, 16, 225 S. Grand Ave, to be her alternate.

At a recent meeting, the group decided to nominate Carol Bachman for Lieutenant governor, James Kratzer for speaker of the House, Robert Knachel for clerk of the Senate, and Dick Renn as Senate chaplain. These nominees will be considered by the district group in Toledo Saturday. At that time, the larger group will decide on a slate of candidates for the state offices.

THE YMCA MOCK legislature is the only one in the state that meets in the capitol building. Real state senators and representatives, as well as other state officers, sit with the youth, offering advice and counsel.

Marvin J Ludwig, YMCA youth secretary who attended last year's gathering, declared the model legislature was "excellent" training for the young people in the workings of state government "They'll be better citizens and better leaders having had the experience," he said.

Ludwig and Mrs Mae Louise (Pinkie) Taylor, girls YMCA secretary, will accompany the six Marion youths to Toledo as advisors. There the group will hear lectures on the practical application of the operation of government, receive instructions in parliamentary procedure and be seated into senatorial districts Marion is in the 13th-31st district.

IN TOLEDO, the local group will elect one of their number as senator and one as his alternate Later, they'll choose a county representative and alternate

Before the mock legislature convenes the six Marion young people will prepare bills to submit for passage by the student legislature Ludwig stated last year's delegates were exceptionally successful in this respect, managing to get two bills passed One of them dealt with automobile inspection. The Ohio legislature in regular session debated but did not pass such a bill.

Court Refuses To Annul Marriage of Dead Soldier

ATLANTA (AP)—Efforts of a Valdosta couple to have their dead son's marriage annulled has been rejected by the Georgia Supreme Court.

At stake was the $10,000 government insurance policy and $1,800 gratuity pay of Willie Ezekial Johnson, a serviceman killed in a plane crash in Idaho Jan 7, 1953

The parents, Ezekial and Bessie Johnson, filed suit against Verta Lee Mitchell Johnson, who they charged fraudulently married their son in Valdosta Aug. 20, 1951.

But the Supreme Court said that fraud is a valid ground for divorce in this state and for that reason could not be used as a ground for seeking an annulment

House Passes $681 Million Price Prop Bill

Temporary Relief Okayed for CCC; Will Need at Least Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent to President Eisenhower a bill providing 681 million dollars to keep the government's farm price support program going, but it is on notice a lot more money will be needed soon.

The House approved the measure quickly on voice vote yesterday. The Senate, after three hours of debate, passed it 49-10.

However, Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee advised his colleagues the 681 millions probably would run the Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC) only about four weeks. House sponsors said it might last seven or eight weeks.

Aiken said in an interview he would press for action soon on a bill to give CCC 1¼ billion dollars more by boosting its borrowing authority from the present 6¾ billion to 8½ billion.

This measure has been approved by Aiken's committee. The Senate Republican Policy Committee has cleared it for floor action.

The Vermont senator also cautioned that CCC, which finances the farm price props, probably will have to ask for even more money by next summer.

The sharp rise in CCC obligations has been caused by a tremendous increase in the volume of commodities put under loan by farmers in recent months in the face of sagging prices.

The bill now on Eisenhower's desk reimburses CCC for losses it has suffered in the past year.

Elyria Wins Award For Deathless Days

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio State Safety Council announced today that Elyria won the 1953 "deathless days" contest, going through the year without a single traffic fatality.

In the council's contest, cities were grouped according to population. The winners in each group were: Group 1, Toledo 34 days without a traffic death; Group 2, Akron 54 days; Group 3, Youngstown 105 days; Group 4, Lakewood 215 days; Group 5, Lima, 149 days; Group 6, East Cleveland, 176 days; and Group 7, Elyria 365 days.

Council president Henri Marc said nearly half of the 22 Ohio cities entered in the contest showed fewer traffic deaths than in 1952.

Lincoln Day Attacks Sting Democrats

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—While President Eisenhower stands aloof from the day-by-day political strife, his Republicans go around knocking the Democrats' hats off. It's getting on the Democrats' nerves.

Now they're calling on Eisenhower to halt the Republican attacks, if he disapproves, or say openly he endorses them, if he does. In this effort to put him on the spot, the Democrats' relationship with him has taken a sudden turn.

In his public statements dealing with Democrats Eisenhower has practiced the precept—"with malice toward none"—laid down by Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday Friday the Republicans are busy celebrating.

Because of this, or because they have a healthy respect for his popularity, Democrats generally have said nothing mean about him.

It's a rare relationship which seems in danger of disappearing in this election year for, if the Republican attacks continue along their present line, the Democrats may not let Eisenhower stand aloof from partisan brawls.

The Democrats started calling on him to say where he stood after a weekend blast at them by his No. 1 White House assistant, Sherman Adams.

Adams in a speech Saturday night climaxed the Republicans' own growing irritation over the Democrats' harping on the present business downturn. He said:

Democrats who talked about depression were a bunch of political "sadists" trying to hand the country a "Fear Deal." This, coming from someone so close to Eisenhower as Adams, set the Democrats afire.

But it wasn't the only match the Republicans had applied to them. The Democrats were ablaze over another quesion:

After all the Republican talk in the 1952 campaign about Communists - in - government, just how many Communists did the Republicans find when they took over from the Democrats?

Eisenhower himself announced 2,200 government employes had been "separated" from their jobs under his security program. Under that progoram a person could be fired not only for being a Communist or Communist sympathizer but for being a drunk, homosexual or a gossip.

How many of the 2,200 were found to be actual Communists or fellow travelers or otherwise subversive and how many were let out for the various other reasons? Eisenhower didn't say.

In spite of demands by Democrats in Congress, and repeated questioning of the President by newsmen, the administration still hasn't said how many of the "separated" people were subversive.

Democrats protested in the Senate that Republicans inside and outside the White House have been implying most of the "separated" employes were Communists.

The question about the number of Communists uncovered by the Republicans is not academic. Some powerful Republicans have insisted Communists - in - government would be a main issue in this year's congressional elections. Eisenhower has said he hopes any fear of Reds "actively undermining" the government will have disappeared by November.

If the administration ever provides a breakdown showing none or only a handful of the 2,200 were subversive, the Republicans will have lost a lot of ammunition. The Democrats will have gained it. If it turns out the other way, the Democrats will be sorry they ever raised the question.

Last year Democrats helped Eisenhower on certain pieces of legislation. Even more this year, when the Democrats outnumber Republicans in the Senate and are almost even with them in the House, Eisenhower will need Democratic help on his program.

But while the democrats may mutter about not giivng him continued support, on a matter of national welfare the Democrats will have difficulty opposing an Eisenhower program on partisan political grounds.

BLS Reports 2 Million Drop In Employment

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were 47,700,000 Americans at work last month in industry, trade, transportation and government—a drop of two million from December.

Reporting this yesterday, the Bureau of Labor Statistics attributed the decrease in nonfarm employment in part to seasonal factors.

However, BLS said a 380,000 drop in factory payrolls was "appreciably larger than usual" and the most severe for the season since the 1949 recession year.

While noting the effect of seasonal trends on employment in the lumber, food and miscellaneous manufacturing industries, BLS also said there were reductions in primary metals, machinery, leather, transportation equipment and ordnance payrolls "not attributable to seasonal influences."

In the textile and apparel fields, where personnel reductions are customary at this time of the year, BLS said the drops recorded last month were bigger than usual.

Over-all, nonfarm employment last month was the largest of any January except last year, BLS said. It was 646,000 below a year ago because of factory layoffs. January employment in nonmanufacturing industries, on the other hand, was the highest ever.

Busy Bees Are Victims Of Extravagant Habits

WASHINGTON (UP) — Honeybees, reputedly models of busy efficiency, have some extravagant habits.

They work themselves literally to death—a worker's life averages only six weeks. They commit suicide when the sting, leaving both sting and vital organs in the flesh of their victims.

Their strange custom of swarming often endangers their existence. For example, when a new colony swarms in the fall it may be caught without enough honey in storage to last until spring and, with its emigrant workers from the old hive too old to be of much use.

Color Schemes Can Cut Accident Rates, Lumbermen Hear

Area lumberman learned last night how colors can lower the accident rate in home, factory or office.

Cliff Norman, engineer with the National Lead Industries, spoke to members of district 11, Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers Association, at their monthly meeting at Hotel Harding. Norman said the trend now is to use proper interior decorating colors to reduce the accident rate. He pointed out the colors blue, gray and green are a safety combination that cause accidents not to happen.

Fifteen lumber dealers from Marion, Hardin, Union, Delaware, Wyandot and Crawford Counties heard Norman talk on the subject, "Good Paint formulas."

Another speaker was Charles Benson, field secretary for the lumber association. He is currently director of the association's annual refresher course at Ohio State University. This course is designed to acquaint younger employees with all phases of the lumber business.

William Hutchman, vice-president of the Lockwood Lumber Co., is chairman of the district 11 group.

Clear Highways

Crews on Roads Work Odd Hours, Save Lives

By ROBERT LISTON

"If we save one life, it was worth the effort."

Thus spoke Charles Barrett, Marion county superintendent of highways, about the time, energy and money involved in keeping highways passable and safe for Marion motorists.

Barrett and his 50 fellow highway department employees will spread between 500 and 800 tons of rock salt this winter on U S and state routes passing through Marion County. They'll work in sleet and snow and at odd hours often as many as 30 in a row, in keeping the highways clean.

THE MARION department, with headquarters on Fairground St., is one of eight sub-units in Division 6 of the State Highway Department The division has offices in Delaware and encompasses Marion, Morrow, Delaware, Union, Franklin Pickaway Fayette and Madison Counties

The Marion unit along with the others is charged with the upkeep of the highways in the county.

In summer this means seeding and mowing grass.

The year around it means berm maintenance culvert and driveway repair, guardrail inspection, and general minor upkeep of the roads Facilities for repair of "chuck holes" is part of the equipment

But, in winter, the big job is "de-icing" the highways

Barrett says his responsibility first of all is to know the weather forecasts. These he gets much as any citizen, by reading weather reports. When he knows a storm is in the offing, he sees to it his trucks are loaded with salt and in excellent running order.

THE DEPARTMENT also operates a nightly road patrol to check on general highway conditions and salt local trouble spots such as bridges and railroad crossings Barrett explains that bridges cause difficulty because the wind blows under them, freezing and water on the bridge surface quicker than would occur on the highway itself

As soon as the snow begins to fall, Barrett calls out his crews In a half hour the men are on the roads Spreading the truck's four-ton load of salt so it will do the most good is a definite science. For instance, when the temperature is below 20 degrees salt cannot be used, for the water formed when the salt melts freezes again

Then, too, the salt has to be put in the right place on the road and in the proper thickness to do the job.

THE SALT IS spread down the center of the highway, Barrett explained. "This way highway traffic will disperse it and clear the entire surface" How thick do you put it? "In a light snowfall we spread 100 to 200 pounds to a mile, 500 pounds for a heavy fall." Barrett reported the sprinkle rate is governed by the speed of the truck

Every motorist has seen the trucks in operations, red lights flashing, the funnel on the side giving an even flow of salt, and the lone man up in back who keeps the funnel full. In what might be the understatement of the year, Barrett said, "It sometimes get pretty cold up there."

In a heavy snowfall of, say, two inches or more, salt would be inadequate for clearing the roads Plows are installed on the trucks to clear the way for the salt spreaders.

BARRETT EXPLAINED that certain highways must be cleared before others In order of importance they are Routes 23 4, 30-S, 95 and 98, followed by secondary roads But he said in most cases his 13 trucks can clear all the major highways at the same time secondary roads will be in good shape within 24 hours if the snow lets up Marion city is responsible for the highways through it and the county for its own roads, Barrett pointed out

The highway garage is a new building large enough to house all the equipment and the maintenance shop Each truck has its own berth with its snowplow there ready to be fitted on when needed

And there is plenty of rock salt, sheds full of it. Barrett looks at it and shakes his head. "It sure would make a lot of home-made ice cream"

Harding Rally Falls Short; St. Mary Nips Johnsville

Shelby Grabs Early Lead, Beats Off Prexy Comeback

By JOHN SHORT

A determined last-half rally by Harding's Presidents fell short last night and the Prexies suffered a 75-66 defeat at the hands of the Shelby Whippets on the winners' floor.

Sparked by Wincel Ingram, 5-7 guard, the Whippets stunned the Prexy crew with 30 lightning-like points in the opening period and continued their racehorse attack to build up a comfortable 51-27 margin at the half.

The Shelby crew just couldn't miss the basket in the first two periods and the team controlled every phase of play.

Ingram Stars

With Ingram ripping the Harding defense with 16 points during the first two stanzas and Tom Bucknam batting in 11 points, mostly on rebounds, the Whippets threatened to turn the game into a complete rout.

The Prexies reversed the picture at the start of the third period. The defense shut Ingram off on his drive-ins and Dave Schneider and Max Kaelber began pulling in rebounds. Ron Conroy, top man in the Harding attack, loosened the Shelby defensive setup when he began hitting regularly on long set shots.

By the start of the final frame, Harding had reduced the lead to 65-48. Conroy, Doug Bibler and Kaelber continued their scoring pace of the third quarter and with half the period to play, Shelby's margin had been cut to 68-57.

Harding's press slowed the Whippets but the closest Harding could come was a 72-65 deficit with a minute and a half to play.

Conroy finished the game with 22 points, all on field goals, to lead the Prexies. Bibler added 14 and Kaelber came in with 12, most of his coming on shots from under the boards.

Four of Shelby's starters finished with double figure scoring. Ingram, playing with a cast over a fractured nose, led the way with 29. Bucknam hit for 20. Nick Davies tipped in 13 and Lowell Jarrell added 10.

The Whippets had to be red-hot during the first half. Once the Harding cagers found the range, they tried 77 shots from the field and connected on 30 for a 39 per cent average. They added six of 13 shots from the foul line. Conroy dropped in 11 of 2 field attempts, Bibler hit on six of 14 and Kaelber potted six of 12.

Difference at Foul Line

Both teams collected 30 field goals with the difference being registered at the foul marker. Thirteen whistles were sounded against the Prexies while Shelby was charged with only eight infractions.

Big factor in the Harding comeback was the effective manner in which Ingram was blanketed in the last half. He was limited to one field goal, a long set shot, in the last two periods. Following the game, Coach Jim Lawler had nothing but praise for the Shelby ace.

The loss gave Harding a 6-10 mark for the season and boosted Shelby to a 9-5 record. In an attempt to shake the Prexies' losing habits, Lawler tried a new starting team last night. Kaelber and Gene Armstrong were at forwards with Chet King at center and Phil Carroll and Joe Snouffer as guards. The regulars took over late in the opening period.

The Vice Presidents took a hard-earned 41-39 decision in the preliminary after fighting off a late rally. Lowell Carlisle led the way with 12 markers and Lowell McFann added 9. Larry Seigfried led the losers with 17 and Gene Sprow added 10.

Freddies Hand Mt. Gilead 3rd Setback 68-62

MT. GILEAD — Mt. Gilead's season record stood at 12-3 after the Indians dropped a 68-62 decision to Fredericktown there last night.

The winners built up 12-point quarter leads of 35-23 at halftime and 50-38 at the three-quarter mark and then staved off a determined bid by the losers in the final quarter.

Tindall and Rine each dumped in 20 points while Frazier chipped in with 15 for the winners. Ted Moody was high for Mt. Gilead with 15 points. Bachelder and Mosher each collected 14 while Zolman dropped in 12.

Fredericktown also copped the reserve contest 38-30. Johnstown is at Mt. Gilead Friday night.

Irish Coast Past Morrow Visitors for Victory No. 12

By GARY SAMS

St. Mary's Irish rolled by Johnsville 68-61 in a rough contest on the Coliseum floor last night.

The Irish led all the way in posting their 12th victory of the season as opposed to five losses. It was Johnsville's fifth loss in 20 starts.

Coach Ray Robbins' forces pulled away in the second half to a commanding 18-point lead with slightly over two minutes left in the game when the visitors cut the margin to a mere five points against the Irish substitutes.

Losers Grab Rebound

Out-rebounded by the taller Johnnies, the locals connected on 24 of 56 attempts from the field for the win. The healthy 43 per cent marksmanship from the floor was coupled with 20 free throws made on 31 attempts. The Morrow Countians dropped in 23 of 43 tries from the charity line.

With Jack O'Keeffe pushing in two of the baskets, the Irish jumped out front 7-0 before the visitors scored.

A long jump shot by Mike Anderson, his second fielder of the tilt, gave the Irish back their seven-point lead, 10-3, later in the period before Johnsville managed to close the gap to 10-7. Glenn Myers' rebound shot and the foul shot resulting from the scoring play at the 2:13 mark of the opening period brought the losers within three points of the locals but it was as close as Johnsville came the rest of the route.

St. Mary was never in danger throughout the second half with a five-point margin in the closing seconds of the contest as close as the Johnsville squad could come at any time in the final two periods.

The Irish lead fluctuated from seven to 12 points during the third stanza until a minute remained when the locals began working into their biggest bulge of the contest.

A lay-up by Johnny Messenger with a minute and a half remaining in the third period started the Irish off. Roger Micheli followed with a push shot from the side at the 1:05 mark and tapped in a basket on Larry Ryan's missed free throw with 13 seconds left for a 55-40 bulge at the quarter. Johnsville closed the gap to 58-48 in the ensuing three and a half minutes as Lyle Snavely found the range for the losers.

Increase Lead

Then the Irish raced to its largest advantage of the contest, 66-48, with two and a half minutes remaining in the tilt. A lay-up and a pair of free throws by Messenger at the 2:56 mark preceded two charity tosses by Micheli 13 seconds later and a lay-up which boosted the locals ahead by the 18-point margin.

Johnsville promptly began to close the gap. With the Irish starters yanked with only two minutes left in the final quarter, the visitors began their rally. Paced by Myers and Snavely, the visitors trimmed the Irish lead to 66-61 after Myers dropped in a pair of free throws with 57 seconds remaining, Snavely laid one in 12 seconds later and Myers hit on a jump shot at the 0:33 mark.

Coach Robbins' promptly sent back in starters Jerry Ballenger, Micheli and Messenger who preserved the victory.

Each team lost a man on fouls in the contest as St. Mary was charged with 27 personals and Johnsville with 19. Butch Merchant left at the 6:33 mark of the final stanza while Johnsville lost Clayton Fry.

O'Keeffe sat out the last three quarters after contacting three personals in the opening period. His third came with 1:09 left in the quarter after he had sunk seven points to pace the Irish attack up to then.

The locals brought down 34 of the games' 72 rebounds with Anderson pulling in seven of them for the Irish. Merchant grabbed six while Micheli and Ballenger each had five and Ryan four.

Anderson, Micheli Lead

Anderson and Micheli paced the Irish attack with 16 points apiece while Messenger dropped in nine and Ryan eight. Myers, Johnsville's 6-0 forward who had been averaging 24 points per contest, dropped in 25 for the losers while Snavely came in with 18.

St. Mary's futures went down to a 35-34 defeat in the preliminary reserve contest when the visitors dropped in a basket just as the buzzer sounded to climax an uphill battle. The locals had led all the way to the final moments.

Dick King and Dave Kraft, each with 10 points, were high point

Russia May Enter U.S. Indoor Track Sessions

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia may enter a track team in the big meets winding up the U.S. winter indoor season next month.

Dmitry Posnikov, deputy minister of health and chief of the Central Board of Physical Culture, announced yesterday that Russia is interested in sending a team to the United States as part of an expanded program of international competition for Soviet teams this year.

Posnikov announced no specific plans, but in New York, Dan Ferris, secretary of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union, said the Soviet athletes might come for meets in Milwaukee March 13, Cleveland March 19, New York March 20 and Chicago March 27.

Ferris said he had received a "favorable reaction" from the Russian embassy in Washington over the prospects of a Soviet visit.

Ellis Kinder of the Boxton Red Sox set an American League record in 1953 for most games by a pitcher in one season, 69.

JAMBOREE. Six players are mixed up in a scramble for a loose ball in the Indiana-Minnesota basketball game at Bloomington, Ind., won by Indiana 90-77. Knee to knee in the foreground are Indiana's Don Schlundt and Minnesota's Dick Garmaker (53). Behind Garmaker is an unidentified player and at Schlundt's right are Gophers, Ed Kalafat and Glen Reed with Charles Kraak of Indiana behind them.

Gold Medal Cage Play Scheduled at Mt. Gilead

Tournament entry blanks are available for the 6th Annual Gold Medal Basketball Tournament of the Mt. Gilead Lions Club.

Scheduled to begin March 29, teams interested in entering the tourney are asked to contact Bob Haas of the Lions Club at Mt. Gilead. Entries will close March 1.

Tournament proceeds will go to the Lions' charity activities. One of the club's projects the past year was the screening of all second grade children in Morrow County for sight defects and furnishing glasses to those who could not afford them. The tourney also helps supply the Mt. Gilead Lions Club's share of the cost of sight research by the national club.

The tournament will also run on March 26 and 27 and April 2, 3 and 10.

CLEVELANDER RALLIES

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Featherweight Mickey Mars of Cleveland rallied in the last two rounds to win a 10-round split decision last night over Jessie Rodriguez of Warren in Memorial Auditorium. Mars weighed 126 to 124 for the Warren battler.

Hardin County Holds Drawing

FOREST — Mt. Victory, 14-2, and Forest, 8-6, were seeded in drawings for the Hardin County Class B tournament held last night at a dinner meeting of county coaches at Kenton.

Ridgeway was paired with Mt. Victory in the opening tournament game at 7 p.m. Feb. 18. Alger will meet McGuffey in the second game that night at 8 p.m.

The tournament, a single elimination one this year, will be run off in Ada's Taft gymnasium on Feb. 18, 19, 23, 24 and 26.

Forest will meet Hardin-Northern in a single game at 8 p.m. on Feb. 19. Roundhead, which drew an opening round bye, is scheduled to play the winner of the Forest-Hardin-Northern game at 8 p.m. on Feb. 24.

A lone game the night before will have the winners of the opening night games squaring off at 8 p.m. The championship finals are set for Feb. 26 at 8 p.m.

Mt. Victory won the Hardin County League title while Hardin-Northern finished in the runner-up spot.

Charles Stephens of Mt. Victory is chairman of the Hardin County athletic committee which is setting up the tournament. Other members of the committee are Alvin Weis of Ridgeway and James Shope of McGuffey. Clyde Lamb, athletic director at Ohio Northern University, Ada, is tournament manager.

Roy Everly of Marion and Earl Marmon of Columbus will handle tournament officiating.

Barons Drop 5-1 Verdict After Fort Wayne's Spurt

Komet Skaters Net Three In Period of Two Minutes

FORT WAYNE — Three quick goals within the space of two minutes and four seconds of the third period clinched a 5-1 victory for the Komets over the Marion Barons at the coliseum last night.

The three-goal spree by the Komets broke open a hard-skating tight defensive battle similar to that staged at Marion on Sunday. There was a scoreless first period. The Barons took the lead in the second but the Komets fought back to take a 2-1 advantage at the second intermission.

Then they broke loose for a goal after 1:40 of play in the final stanza. Scored again at 3:03 and repeated at 3:44. The front line of Eddie Long, Billy Watson and Skip Frezell was in for all three of these goals. Art Stone was along with them for the first when Coach Pat Wilson employed his offensive strength with the Barons skating a man short.

In the second period Hal Jones had started the scoring for Marion, registering at 10:22 on a screen shot that Goalie Ivan Walmsley had little chance of seeing.

Then Joe Kastelic tied it at 11:48. He scored on one of the most spectacular plays of the season on the Coliseum ice, taking the puck at center ice from Rollie Beauchamp, a new wingman just secured from Toledo, skating in all the way against Crowdis and shooting the puck past him at the side of the net.

Eddie Blondin gave the Komets a 2-1 lead at the end of the period to play, taking a pass from Pat Wilson.

The third period was all Komets and after four minutes of play they had it pretty well sewed up.

The attendance was 3,385.

The Barons will resume their fight to retain second place in the IHL Saturday night at Grand Rapids. On Sunday they return to the Marion Coliseum for a game with the traveling Louisville Shooting Stars.

County Tournament Action Resumes With Four Games

Action in the Marion County basketball tournament resumes tonight on the Coliseum floor with a pair of consolation matches and two quarter-final battles.

Pleasant and Waldo, who dropped opening tourney starts last Monday, will begin activities at 5:30 p.m. Second tilt at 6:45 p.m. will send Meeker against New Bloomington in another consolation match.

Morral, co-champions of the past county league, and Claridon will seek berths in the championship bracket semi-finals in the next two games.

Vern Hensel's Wildcats take on Martel at 8 p.m. while Claridon opposes Caledonia in the nightcap at 9:15 p.m. Martel and Caledonia are appearing in their first 1954 tourney action after drawing opening round byes.

In action Friday, Prospect, co-champions of the county league this year, will take on Green Camp in a quarter-final battle for a spot in the semi-finals of the championship bracket. The game is scheduled for 9 p.m. and will be preceded by two consolation contests.

Green Camp drew a first round bye and like Martel and Caledonia tonight will be seeing its first tourney action Friday. In the consolation games Friday, the loser of the Morral-Martel contest tonight will meet the winner of the Pleasant-Waldo game at 6:30 p.m. and the loser of the Claridon-Caledonia clash will oppose the winner of the Meeker - New Bloomington game at 7:45 p.m.

In opening night action Monday Morral edged Pleasant 53-47, Prospect downed Waldo 57-48, Claridon upset Meeker 44-39 and LaRue swamped New Bloomington 60-43.

Wyandot Cage Drawings Held

UPPER SANDUSKY — Sycamore and McCutchenville, champion and runner-up were seeded in brackets of the Wyandot County League basketball tournament, as tourney round dates were set for Feb. 16, 18, 20, 23 and 26.

First round games next Tuesday will match Wharton and McCutchenville at 7:30 in the Sycamore gym and Marseilles against Nevada in the second game of the evening. A single game at Wharton gym will be Salem and Harpster at 8 p.m. Sycamore drew a first round bye and will play the Salem-Harpster winner at Wharton Thursday. Winners of the first round games at Sycamore will meet there on Thursday.

Two games at Sycamore on Saturday night will precede the gym on the Heidelberg campus at Tiffin on Tuesday, Feb. 23. The consolation final game will be played at Wharton on Feb. 26.

Richard Gousha, McCutchenville Superintendent, was named tournament manager. Assistant managers will be Superintendent Charles Shell of Sycamore and Superintendent Howard Rinehart of Wharton.

Officials for all tourney games will be Alton Euler and Karl Hanneman of Bowling Green; Cletus Clark and Don Cunningham, of Lima.

Sycamore, the league winner, is also defending champion in tourney play. Last year the Wildcats won the Wyandot County and District meets. They were eliminated in the Regional at Toledo by Delphos St. John, 53-52.

Carey Rally Sinks Arlington Quintet

CAREY — Overcoming a 23-12 deficit in the opening period, Carey came back to pump in 28 points in the third quarter to clinch a 73-61 victory over Arlington here last night. The win gave the Blue Devils a season mark of 7-8.

The winners pulled to within two points of the losers at halftime 32-30, and then pulled away during the third period for a 58-48 advantage which they held the rest of the way.

Orians dumped in 21 points for the winners while Draper added 19, Jacoby 13 and Dennison 11. Smith hit for 19 for the losing Arlington club.

Carey took the reserve clash 43-39. The locals journey to Tiffin Calvert Friday for their final game of the year.

Francis Shatters Scoring Record of Johnny O'Brien

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande college jackknifed into a too-short hotel bed early this morning without having said a dozen words about setting a new one-season collegiate basketball scoring record last night.

Coach Newt Oliver did the talking for his star after Bevo pumped in 59 points in a 101-85 victory over Anderson College. His theme was, "We showed 'em."

The 6-foot-9 jump artist now has 988 points for 20 games this season, breaking the 970-point record set in 1951-52 by Johnny O'Brien of Seattle when that school was rated a small college.

Bevo scored 1,954 points last season, only to have the mark rubbed out by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. because many of Rio Grande's 39 games were with junior colleges, and service teams and other non-NCAA opposition.

Oliver objected loudly to the NCAA ruling—and toughened up Rio Grande's schedule this year with such teams as North Carolina State, Wake Forest, Butler, Miami of Florida and Villanova. Bevo kept right on scoring.

"I no longer have an argument with the NCAA," Oliver said today. "When I win an argument, I quit yelling."

Oliver was the national scoring champion himself in 1947-48, scoring 725 points for Rio Grande.

"I told Bevo that the war was over after we left the Anderson gym," Oliver went on. "About all he said was yes, it was, but he was glad, all right. That business last year provoked him."

It provoked Oliver too, and he still smoulders when he thinks about it.

You can yell all you want to about playing junior colleges," he said, "but a lot of them could whip the four-year schools."

Newsmen asked Bevo how he felt after the game and he just shrugged. He was so busy giving autographs he didn't have time for much else

Charleston Scout Leader To Speak at Dinner Here

Guest speaker Thursday night at the Boy Scout fellowship dinner will be M. L. (Johnny) Johnson, scout executive of the Buckskin Council, Charleston, W. Va.

The covered dish dinner will be held in the Epworth Methodist Church starting at 6:30. In attendance will be registered volunteers and their wives of the Marion and Morrow districts of the Harding Area Council. North district scouters will be invited guests.

JOHNSON entered scouting in his teens as a Boy Scout. He eventually became a volunteer worker like those being honored at the Thursday meeting. In 1939 he went into professional scouting as field executive in the Pony Express Council, St. Joseph, Mo. Three years later he became assistant scout executive of the Kaw Council, in Kansas City, Kan., hi home state.

For five years, bdginning in 1944, Johnson was scout executive of the Central Wyoming Council in Casper, Wy., after which he became assistant national director of rural scouting. In this position he experimented with a new type of small rural scout unit called the "tribe." This is a unit used in a community where there are too few boys to form a cub pack or scout troop.

IN 1950, JOHNSON became deputy executive of Region 4 with headquarters in Cincinnati. Region 4 embraces Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. In the latter part of last year, he resigned this positio to become executive of the Buckskin Council.

The fellowship dinner is designed to pay recognition to the volunteer leaders in scouting.

highlight of the program will be the giving of awards to units winning last fall's "round - up." This was a drive to recruit new members of various scout units Units "mortgaged" their unit for a certain number of new members. Those paying off the "mortgage" will receive awards. Dean Johnson, scout executive for the Marion and Morrow districts, announced today the winners of the top shc_phide award, one to each type Scout unit. They were: Pack 29, sponsored by the Georga W..shington PTA; Troop 27, sponsored by the Mt. Gilead Lions Club; and Explorer Ship 59, sponsored by the Marion Navy Club. All three units had over 100 per cent gain in attendance.

AFL Leaders Compromise On Job Fights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL leaders have come forward with a compromise plan for settling job-right fights among rival AFL unions but there remained considerable doubt today how well it will work out.

The AFL Executive Council gave tentative approval to the plan before winding up a winter meeting yesterday. It was obvious that several AFL unions were reluctant about going along.

George Meany, when installed as AFL president little more than a year ago, embarked on a campaign to establish machinery for settling feuds between the AFL and CIO as a preliminary to a merger. Then he was instructed by the AFL to try for a similar peace plan within the AFL itself.

Neither plan has matured, although Meany still is pushing both and is hopeful they can be accomplished.

The rub comes mainly within the AFL, among unions jealous of their often-conflicting jurisdictional claims that a particular union's members should perform a certain type of work.

The whole plan must be reconsidered, however, at another AFL council meeting in Chicago next May when all AFL union presidents also will debate the plan. It then can be put into effect for unions subscribing to it, or the whole matter can be put over to the next AFL convention.

Wholesale Prices Of Food Rise Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index this week touched the highest point since May 29, 1951.

The index registered $7.09 compared with $7.16 on the May 1951 date. A week ago the index stood at $7.01 and a year ago at $6.19.

Commodities rising during the week included flour, wheat, corn, ham, coffee, cottonseed oil, cocoa, peanuts, eggs, steers and lambs. Lower were rye, oats, barley, lard, sugar, raisins and hogs.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

2 ARRESTED BY POLICE

Two traffic arrests were reported today by Marion police. Clarence L. Matteson, 19, of 441 Fies Ave. was charged with having insufficient brakes on his car and Max Mullen, 40, of 384 N. Main St. was charged with speeding. Both were to appear in Municipal Court for hearings.

City and town dwellers in the United Sates are served by more than 76,000,000 taxi cabs, traveling a total of 5,000,000,000 miles a year.

Youths Facing Theft Charges

Boys, 15, 16, Admit Burglary at Theater

Two Marion youths are in the Marion County Detention home today facing possible charges of burglarizing the Palace Theater on W. Center St. sometime Tuesday night.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said today the two boys, one 15, the other 16, had admitted hiding out in the theater after the last show Tuesday night and later breaking into vending machines in the building and taking $43 in small change, cigarets, and pocket combs.

Police apprehended the youths shortly after 3:28 a.m. today when Herman Thew, janitor at the theater, reported the burglary.

In investigating the case, police officers found a soft drink vending machine, a cigaret vending machine, pocket comb vending machine, and another vending machine broken into and the money and some of their contents taken.

While they were completing their investigation, Patrolman Charles Dyke spotted two youths attempting to exchange a large amount of silver money for paper money at a downtown restaurant. Having heard of the burglary he took the youths into custody and notified other investigating officers of the arrest.

Chief Coon said the two boys admitted the burglary and charges will be filed against them in Marion County Juvenile Court. They are being held in the detention home pending trial.

New Fangled Car, Police Foul Up Pair Trying Jail Escape

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Brief freedom for two escapees from a Woodsfield jail in Monroe County ended today after, police said:

The pair sawed their way out of jail, slid down a blanket rope from their second-floor cell, raided a tavern to get cash, stole a car that ran out of gas in Zanesville, were questioned by Zanesville police when both fled on foot. One was captured, police said, but the second one climbed into another car—only to discover he did not know how to operate the automatic transmission. Police captured him later as he fled across the Y Bridge here.

The two were identified by police as Alfred J. Melott, 18, who lives near Woodsfield, and Vernon Hall, 22, who had listed his address as Cleveland. Police said they were being held on an auto theft charge when they escaped.

But Reds Love It

Russian TV Has No Soap Operas, Murder Chillers

Editor's Note — Tom Whitney, who wrote the following story, was formerly an AP correspondent in Moscow. He returned to this country last year.

BY TOM WHITNEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian television has no soap operas, no thrillers for children, no mystery plays, no disc jockeys, no comedians—and no commercials.

For an average American the Soviet telecasts would be pretty dull fare. But Moscovites love them. So far as Russians with TV sets are concerned, television is the biggest thing that's happened since the war.

Even so, Russian television still is a very small-scale operation. The entire U.S.S.R. has only three stations—in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev. Altogether there may be somewhere around 250,000 TV receivers in use, most of them in and around Moscow.

(For comparison: The United States has 360 TV stations in operation and many more under construction and at the end of 1953 there were 27 million TV sets in use.)

The principal Soviet television station—in Moscow—is on the air only 20 to 23 hours a week. Programs start at 8 each evening except Thursday (Thursday is the station's day off) and run to about 11 p.m.

On Sunday afternoons there is always a special childrens' program which runs about three hours. Sometimes on weekdays and Sundays there are special sports broadcasts, usually soccer games.

Soviet television sets selling in Moscow have only four or five-inch screens. The Russians hope to get a set with an 8 or 10-inch screen in mass production in the next year, but have not yet solved this problem.

The small sets are in great demand. They cost 1,275 rubles for the smallest screen and 2,500 for the next larger (a little over five inches). This is the equivalent at the official exchange rate of $318.75 and $625.00 respectively, or what an average Russian worker would earn in two or four months. The cheaper and smaller set is out of stock and can be purchased only by getting on a waiting list.

When one can find a large screen set, such as one imported from the United States, the Moscow telecasts give an image of good quality. But Soviet television studios have much to learn about proper lighting, makeup for the actors and television techniques.

They also have much to learn about programming. Russian stations present full-length motion pictures and plays from the studio or direct from the theater; opera and ballet direct from the Bolshoi Opera Theater, and what they call "concerts." These are variety programs presenting singers, elecutionists, acrobats, dancers and the like.

According to the plans of the Malenkov government, Soviet television is scheduled to undergo a tremendous boom in the next few years. New stations will be built, with coaxial cables to link them in a network.

TAX CHECK

BOSTON (UP) — A door - to - door canvass for federal income tax delinquents in Massachusetts has produced $1,338,773 since last July. During November, for example, revenue agents found that 1,170 or 14.1 per cent, of the 8,275 taxpayers interviewed had failed to file one or more of the required forms.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Agony on the Spot

Welfare Commissioner Henry L. McCarthy of New York City, who recently blasted "Strike It Rich" as a national disgrace is the most deadly foe the agony programs have. Television columnists have been moaning about the sob programs for a long time on the grounds of taste and also on the grounds that they are fairly lousy entertainment.

J. CROSBY

But it was McCarthy, in the speech before the American Public Welfare Association, who first pointed out that the agony programs did incalculable harm to the participants. Children, he said, who are exposed on TV programs as objects of beggerly solicitation, may be scarred for life. Whole families, he revealed, have trekked across the country to try to get on agony shows, have failed to get a hearing and landed on the hands of the New York Welfare Department.

HOWEVER, IT ISN'T the burden of caring for them that is McCarthy's chief complaint. In an article in the forthcoming March issue of "Pageant," McCarthy, who is one of the nation's top authorities on welfare, declares heatedly that such programs are degrading to the people who take part in them and horribly misleading to those who watch and who frequently contribute money or goods under the impression that these people have no place else to go.

"Nobody, but nobody, starves on the street or goes without shelter, food, medicine, crutch or wheelchair if he is legitimately in need," he wrote in that piece. "Any statement to the contrary is poppycock or outright Communist propaganda." (The agony shows carefully avoid making any such statement but the implication is always that the people in trouble have no place else to go.)

"No place else to turn but a lachrymose TV show?" snorts McCarthy. "Thats the last place the afflicted should turn." One reason for McCarthy's indignation is the fact that he is proud of his own profession and of the vast strides it has made in the last twenty-five years in learning how to handle distress cases sympathetically, efficiently and intelligently.

AGAINST ALL THIS lavish financial outlay and applied know-how, a few misery matinees on TV — designed for the public's thoughtless entertainment and a sponsor's profit — are turning back the clock of charity to the days of the street-corner beggar with his tin cup. In fact the shows are even worse. On TV there's even a barker to call attention to the poor beggar's sores.

"The TV show is perilously close to begging — a practice all decent people have long since condemned and made unnecessary and which only TV has revived," And, he might have added, it's the most public begging of all history. "Strike It Rich" is supposed to have an audience of around 20,000,000.

The blunt fact is that giveaway programs have never solved any very real problems yet. An outlay of $500 — when they get that much — is a nice piece of change but it won't pay the family grocery bill very long and sooner or later, the real needy cases land on the hands of the welfare authorities anyhow.

I'm not at all sure that McCarthy's ruling that "Strike It Rich" needs a license because it solicits funds will do much good beyond calling attention to the problem. The ruling will undoubtedly be challenged in the courts and even if the courts uphold McCarthy, "Strike It Rich" is only one program and New York is only one city. The problem is a lot bigger than that. There are a lot of agony programs — "The Wheel of Fortune," "On Your Account" (one of the worst), "Welcome Travelers," to name only three — all of which employ human misery to get a rating. "Strike It Rich" is simply the most conspicuous example because it is the oldest, best known, and because it seems to be on the air all day long. (It's on CBS-TV at 11:30 a.m. five days a week, on NBC radio 11 a.m. five days a week, and also has an evening spot on CBS-TV at 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

THE AGONY SHOWS are frankly the shame of television. Television doesn't need them and with the shortage of good network time NBC and CBS don't need the money. Originally the shows were the object of ridicule, but the public temper toward them is increasingly becoming one of exasperation. It's about time that the networks screwed up their courage and tossed them off the air.

Driver Pleads Innocent In Manslaughter Hearing

James Marion Thompson, 21, of 443 Lee St. pleaded not guilty to a charge of second degree manslaughter in Marion Municipal Court this morning and was bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury under $1,000 bond.

Thompson was charged with manslaughter as a result of the death early Monday morning of Mrs. Goldie Baker, 46, of 416½ Silver St. She was fatally injured when struck by a car driven by Thompson at Davids St. and Woodrow Ave. Saturday evening.

Mrs. Baker and a companion, Martin Rice, 46, also of Silver St, were walking east across Davids St. at Woodrow Ave. and Thompson was driving north on Davids St. after making a left turn from Bellefontaine Ave.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Small and irregular price changes today marked the course of the stock market.

There was just about an even division between gains and losses in the list with moves either way effectively covered by a point.

Aircrafts and railroads displayed early rising tendencies along with rubbers, but they fell back as groups when minus signs began to appear. The steels, motors and chemicals were mostly lower. Other divisions held rather steady.

Higher stocks included Baltimore & Ohio, Texas Pacific Land Trust, Boeing and Lockheed. Lower were Chesapeake & Ohio, Allied Chemical, U.S. Steel, General Motors, and Douglas Aircraft.

U.N. Chief Anticipates No New Korean Fighting

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. John E. Hull, commander of U. N. Far East forces, said today just before leaving for Washington that he does not anticipate renewed fighting in Korea.

Hull and U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison left in Hull's private Constellation plane for top-level conferences at the Defense and State departments.

Hull said he was taking an "encouraging report" on Korean conditions. Both described the trip as strictly routine.

Court Quashes Suit Against Film Company

DENVER (AP)—A million - dollar damage suit by former shimmy dancer Gilda Gray, in which she charged Columbia Pictures Corp embarrassed her by using her career as basis for the Rita Hayworth film "Gilda," was dismissed in U. S District Court yesterday.

The dismissal, "with prejudice," climaxed a five-year legal fight started in April 1949 by Miss Gray then living at Larkspur, Colo. Her suit followed by three years Columbia's release of "Gilda," in which Miss Hayworth appeared frequently on the dance floor doing what Miss Gray charged was an imitation of the shimmy she originated.

Miss Gray now is staying with friends in Colorado Springs.

Attorneys did not state the reason for the dismissal, agreed to by both sides. The "with prejudice" part means Miss Gray can never sue Columbia again on the same basis.

Such a dismissal almost always means the parties have settled out of court, a court attache said.

Eisenhower Still Good Man With Telegraph Key

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's been 40 years since President Eisenhower studied telegrapher's code at West Point. But he rattled off part of the dot-dash alphabet with ease Monday night

The occasion was a White House ceremony where Eisenhower pressed a telegrapher's key to open the third International Trade Fair in Seattle, Wash.

The President left a stag dinner at which he was host to flash the signal across the continent at 11 15 p. m , EST.

Atomic Locomotive Described by Utah University Scientist

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—An atomic locomotive that would run for a year on only 13 pounds of uranium will be described today to railroad and manufacturing representatives by a University of Utah nuclear scientist

The scientist, Dr Lyle B. Borst, yesterday made public plans for what could be the world's first atomic-driven locomotive He said the plans were developed during his advance physics course at the university.

Today he will outline the plans to representatives of the five railroads and nine industrial concerns which cooperated with the project.

At a press conference yesterday, he said the locomotive would be driven with steam-produced electricity and would cost an estimated $1,200,000 It would look much the same as the diesel locomotives now in use and would develop 7,000 horsepower.

The scientist said the engine could run for a year on approximately 13 pounds of uranium He said that even if the uranium cost $11,000 a pound the fuel expenditure per year for the locomotive would be about $150,000, compared with the present $240,000 that is spent annually on a diesel developing the same horsepower.

He said he did not know the cost of uranium but said a recent published report estimated it at around $9,000 a pound.

He emphasized that the project was still in the classroom stage but predicted that "we will have atomic locomotives before we have atomically produced electric energy on an industrial scale."

Mitchell Optimistic On Party Chances To Capture House

SEATTLE (AP)—With hard work by party leaders the Democrats should take over the Senate and House in the 1954 elections, Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, said last night.

Speaking informally to a group of 60 party leaders here, Mitchell said the prospects are good "if the party organizes and works"

He said the House race looks best for the Democrats, with the present minority group likely to command a "good majority" after the election. The Senate, he conceded, may be "close" but the leadership is "confident and optimistic."

He criticized Republicans who say the Democrats are being prophets of doom and gloom about an imminent recession

"We simply are talking of facts as they exist," he said. "The Republicans merely are attempting to hide their own weaknesses, they are attempting to conceal the facts."

Roosevelt Not Talking About Marital Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—James Roosevelt, declining to comment on his marital troubles after a meeting with his mother last night prepared today to leave for New York.

Mrs Eleanor Roosevelt, in Chicago on speaking dates, also refused to comment

The eldest son of the late President has been accused by his estranged wife Romelle of misconduct involving 12 women and she has asked $3 500 monthly support in a separate maintenance suit at Pasadena, Calif.

Asked by newsmen if he had discussed his marital problems with his mother Roosevelt said 'You know more about what's going on that I do I'm trying to clean up everything and I m leaving for New York Wednesday

Roosevelt said his trips to Chicago and New York were in connection with his father's estate He said he planned to be back in California in time for a Monday court session dealing with the separate maintenance suits.

James brother, Rep Franklin D Roosevelt (D NY) also was in Chicago on a speaking date but he did not take part in the family conference James described the presence of the three family members in Chicago as 'entirely a coincidence"

The meeting yesterday by James and his mother heightened speculation that they would discuss possible financial settlement of Roosevelt's court fight with his wife

Roosevelt has testified at a support hearing in Pasadena that he already has used his expected inheritance from his father's estate as basis for a $100 000 loan from his mother

Fresh Income Tax Rap Filed Against Hoodlum in Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Income tax evasion charges added another tangle today to the legal snarls of Shondor Birns, Cleveland hoodlum

Treasury agents picked up the 47-year-old racket figure yesterday on criminal charges that he filed a false and fraudulent return for 1947 and owes the government $18 742 for that year

The figure was paltry, however, compared with the $114 972 lien filed against him two years ago for unpaid income taxes

Birns, who is under a federal deportation order, went to Miami late last year after the city's new mayor, Anthony J Celebrezze, ordered police to run him out of town.

He returned a few weeks ago to prepare for his Common Pleas Court trial next week on numbers game charges Police have been keeping him under 24-hour surveillance under 'harassment" tactics ordered by the mayor.

NEED CHECKING

Aid to Nationalists Could Have Saved China, Butler Says

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Timely aid to nationalist leader Chiang Kai-Shek "could have saved the day" in China, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) said last night at a Lincoln Day Republican gathering

Sen Butler declared that 'China need never have fallen" to the Communists in 1948, and 'the present chaos in the Far East could have been avoided '

"In February, 1942 the United States, recognizing a serious situation, approved 500 million dollar economic aid to China,' he said adding

"But when this aid was finally made available four years later, in March of 1946 it was too late to curb the menace of communism in China '

Official Predicts Decline In Petroleum Shipments

CLEVELAND (AP) — Great Lakes tankers hauled 120,027 406 barrels—or 16,810 257 net tons—of petroleum products during 1953, according to the Lake Carriers' Assn

One hundred United States and Canadian vessels carried the amount, second only to the 1952 record shipment of 17,448,490 tons, the association said

The group s vice president Oliver T Burnham predicted a decline in petroleum shipments this year which he said will be due to completion of a 635-mile pipeline from Superior, Wis , to Sarnia, Ont

Freedom Week In Ohio Is Set For Feb. 15-22

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov Frank J Lausche today proclaimed Feb 12 to 22 as Freedom Week in Ohio 'to support the Crusade for Freedom to bring truth and encouragement to the enslaved peoples in the captive countries behind the Iron Curtain"

Headed by Henry Ford II, the Crusade for Freedom is a fund-raising organization which supports private information agencies overseas, including Radio Free Europe

Robert A Weaver of Cleveland is state chairman for the crusade, which is seeking "truth dollars' for the radio system and signatures of "freedom scrolls" for what Ford called the "moral backing of millions of independent Americans"

Iberia Legion To Honor Vets At PTA Program Thursday

IBERIA — Mrs. Stella Ertley and Mrs. Arthur Meek, program chairman of the Iberia PTA, are announcing a special program which will be held at the Iberia Parent Teachers Association's monthly meeting Thursday night at the Iberia School auditorium.

Members of Don Wilson Post 758, American Legion, have been invited to present a program honoring homecoming veterans of the Korean conflict with Post Commander Arthur Meek and Post Adjutant Raymond Kidwell serving on the special committee to welcome guests.

Post Commander Meeks states the purpose of the program is to honor returning veterans who have served "for God and country" since 1950.

The welcome will be given by Fred Thacker and Ralph Jones, 6th district American Legion officers. Main address of honor will be given by James H. Wagonseller, vice-commander of the American Legion of Ohio, Lancaster newspaperman and World War II veteran.

Howard Brooke, president of the PTA, will conduct a short business session; the American Legion color guards will post and retire the colors; the school band will play, "The Star Spangled Banner"; and the invocation will be given by Rev. Robert Bush.

"I Am An American", recitation by Bruce Riddle; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address", by David Primm; and special solo numbers by Fred Barr, of Galion, will feature the patriotic theme.

Youth of the community will be honored under the leadership of Mrs. Louise Garverick, Betty Garverick, Rebecca Thatcher, Mrs. Kenneth Balliett, Mrs. Don Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riddle, Mrs. Alwilda Stewart, Mrs. Lucille Doles, Mrs. Dorothy Page, George and John Doles who will supervise the presentation of pledges from the Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Members of the Iberia Schools recently organized Future Homemakers of America from the home economic department are scheduled to present a style show prior to the meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Mark A. Baker.

Toledo May Be Area of Critical Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of labor Mitchell is expected to classify Toledo, Ohio, as a critical unemployment area soon—possibly today.

Mitchell was in California today but it was understood he might be asked to approve the Toledo designation by telephone.

A spokesman for the office of defense mobilization (ODM) said it might take as long as six months however, for such classification to help the city's jobless.

Another Ohio congressman—Rep. Reams (Ind-Ohio), told a reporter he was "optimistic" that Toledo would be classified a critical area.

Ohio has asked that Toledo be classified as a surplus labor sector to make its industries eligible to bid on government contracts set aside especially for such areas.

Another Ohio congressman—Rep. Hays (D)—has asked the government to classify his area, around Steubenville and East Liverpool, as a surplus labor area.

He said he plans to write again to the White House, asking the President what can be done. In addition to defense contracts, Hays wants a public works program.

Carthage, one of the greatest cities of the ancient world, reached a peak population of a million inhabitants more than three centuries before the Christian era.

School Official Named To Head Church's Study

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Jordan L. Larson, superintendent of schools at Mount Vernon, N. Y., was named today to lead the effort by Protestant churches to give public school children a basic knowledge of religion.

Dr. Larson, a Presbyterian layman and president-elect of the American Assn. of School Administrators, was named chairman of a committee of 60 educators and churchmen. His appointment was made at the annual conference of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

The committee he will head is the council's newly created Committee on Religion and Public Education.

Dr. R. L. Hunt, administrative head of the committee who is planning a national conference on religion and public education, declared no one is suggesting sectarian approach to teaching religion. He added, however, that implications of the nation's historic church and state doctrine has produced confused thinking.

Dr. Hunt said the committee would study many questions that have been raised about religion in the public schools and the responsibility of Christians to support public education.

Last night Cleveland E. Dodge, New York business and civic leader, received the Russell Colgate distinguished service citation, the highest award given to a layman by Protestant churches.

Two Drivers Arrested By Highway Patrolmen

Two arrests were reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Russell Stegall, 50, of Olive Hill, Ky., was ticketed for passing on the yellow line and fined $10 and costs by Mayor Emery M. Murphy of Mt. Gilead. Joseph E. Stanko, 43, of Youngstown, was arrested on the same charge. He posted a bond for appearance today in Municipal Court.

Exchange Club State Meeting Planned Here

Marion Group Will Be Host for Conference Slated March 27-28

The Marion Exchange Club will be host for the annual spring conference of the Exchange Club of Ohio in March.

Plans are under way for the two-day meeting on March 27-28. Committees to make arrangements have been named and various programs are being planned. Headquarters will be at Hotel Harding.

Approximately 200 Exchange club members from throughout the state along with a number of their wives are expected to be in Marion for the conference which will get under way on Saturday with registration at 4 p.m.

A social mixer will be held Saturday night, various forum sessions have been planned for Sunday morning, and a luncheon will be served at noon Sunday.

Guest speaker for the principal session Sunday will be Prof. Edward A. Wright, chairman of the department of theater arts at Denison University, Granville. An entertainer and humorist, he presents a program of original stories, character sketches and impersonations.

A member of the Denison faculty since 1937, Prof. Wright is supervising director of the Denison University Theater, which now is in its 23rd season. He holds both B.A. and M.A. degrees from the State University of Iowa.

Special music will be by the Polka Dot Trio, the Dominos, both student music groups, and by the Harding High School choir.

Officers of the state association are George W. Conelly of Wasseon, president; Arnold O. Lundberg of Toledo, vice president; Ralph E. Foster of Springfield, secretary and treasurer.

Chairman of the conference committee for the Marion Club is D. J. Sansotta. On the committee with him are LeRoy Retterer, George Balsley, Harley Walker, Joe Scherer, Fred Schultz, Jack Kratzer, and John W. Salisbury. Other members and their wives are assisting with plans.

Mannequin, Not Corpse

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Two men carried a five-foot-long object wrapped in a white sheet into the lobby of the United States Courthouse yesterday.

Spectators gasped when they saw blonde hair protruding from one end of the bundle.

The men waited quietly for an elevator. Then they rode up to the office of the FBI.

A body? No, said the FBI. A department store mannequin used in a police training course.

Unemployment Claimants Must Be Able To Work and Seek Jobs

Any one who has read the "fine print" on insurance policies knows how specific are the conditions under which benefits can be paid.

The Ohio Unemployment Compensation Act, which in effect is the unemployed worker's "policy" or insurance "contract," is just as specific in defining what the claimant must do to draw benefits.

Perhaps the most important requirement, and the one most pregnant with meaning as far as the claimant is concerned, is that which says he must be "able to work, available for work, unable to find work and actively seeking work."

At the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service which takes claims for its parent organization, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, Manager Fred B. Scherff declared:

"What the claimant must do, in order to obtain benefits, is to come in and convince us, not only that he is unemployed through no fault of his own, but that his inability to find work is no fault of his own, either. There is a distinction between the two statements.

"When a claimant certifies for a week of unemployment, he must make a number of statements which have the effect of saying this: 'During the past week, there was nothing wrong with me physically or mentally that would keep me from working; I stayed within easy call if a suitable job were available; I looked for work (here are the names of the employers on whom I called) and in spite of my best efforts I could not find work.' "

Asked why the law was so insistent upon the claimant making an active search for work, Scherff declared:

"The basic reason is that unemployment benefits are intended only for those workers who are attached to the labor market—who regard their unemployment as temporary and who have an urgent desire to find other work as soon as possible."

Claimants who fail to take this requirement of "actively searching for work" seriously face two adverse possibilities, Scherff said. One is the denial of further benefits by the BUC; the other may result from a protest which can be made by an interested employer. In the latter case, a hearing is held before a referee. If the claimant cannot show that he has been actively looking for work on his own, repayment of benefits may be ordered.

Taxpayer Follows His Instructions Perfectly

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A taxpayer who apparently hired the services of an auditor in filing his income tax yesterday had employes of the Internal Revenue Service scratching their heads.

They received a signed personal check for "none" dollars.

Employes theorized the man was advised by an auditing firm:

(1) Sign your name, (2) make out check for $ (here the auditor inserted the word "none") and (3) mail and return to Internal Revenue Service.

"He did exactly as told," a tax official said, "but I don't know what we'll do with the check."

Maryland Driver Has Difficult Day

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—William S. Powick, 26, of Chevy Chase was uninjured when his car skidded into an embankment here yesterday.

He still wasn't hurt when his car was struck by one driven by Curtis C. Dangler, 24, of Potomac.

Powick was returning to his stranded car to get his belongings when a car driven by Mrs. Gusti Greger, 52, of Rockville, slid into his car and sprayed him with glass. Both Powick and Mrs. Greger were taken to a hospital.

As an aftermath, a car driven by Ellerby Heering, 50, of Bethesda overturned when he swerved to avoid the stalled cars.

January Auto Accidents Kill Four in District

This area had more than its share of January traffic fatalities, figures released today by Cpl. Doyle M. Dewalt, commander of the Marion post of the state highway patrol, show.

The Marion post, covering all of Marion and most of Morrow Counties, reported four persons killed in traffic accidents during January. There were 12 fatalities in the whole state patrol district, embracing posts at Bay Bridge, Fremont, Norwalk, Bucyrus, and Mansfield, in addition to Marion. District figures released by Lt. W. B. Spence of Bucyrus show eight fatal accidents. Cpl. Dewalt's summary reveals two of those accidents occurred in this area.

The January report for the Marion post discloses a total of 39 accidents and 14 injury accidents in which 20 persons were injured.

Cpl. Dewalt reported his post made 286 arrests during January, 278 for traffic violation and eight for other causes. Patrolmen gave 479 written warnings. Men of the Marion post made nine safety talks last month before 984 persons.

Cpl. Dewalt said his post received 913 phone calls last month and 293 persons visited the post

From the Beginning

Contrary to an impression that political bombast in the United States was invented recently, it has been with us from the beginning.

Even George Washington was not granted immunity from attacks so savage they came close to convincing him he had wasted his fortune and talents in the service of an ungrateful populace

Among the slurs leveled at Washington was treasonable self-interest. His political opponents suggested he was not trying to found a republic but to set up a kingdom.

Only those who have neglected to learn what politicians and their backers said about each other in the past can be distributed by things said in the present. Allegations of treason are no easier to bear when made in 1954 against Democrats than they were in other times when made against Republicans, Whigs, Federalists and Tories.

Insofar as this sort of thing goes with partisanship in a country where freedom to speak is absolute in politics, it is not unduly alarming when it happens again. Nor is it alarming when members of Congress object to it for the official record and ask the President of the United States to put a stop to it.

It is ridiculous, however, when Democratic congressmen take the attitude that they and their party are being victimized by an unfair practice when reminded of their party's bad record in waking up to Communist infiltration of the executive department and doing something about it before prodded into action by legislative investigators.

Fixing responsibility is part of the process of two-party government — not a pretty process, necessarily, but an inevitable process.

Members of a party which formerly blamed the opposition for everything connected with the depression yet cry "Foul!" when accused of turning over the federal government to the hammer-and-sickle carpet-baggers of the Kremlin with passports furnished by the New Deal are asking for a rude public guffaw.

If these people want to know how far it is possible to go with allegations for partisan purposes, they should read the things they said when they were the ins and their present attackers were the outs.

Tough on Outsiders

When members of the U. S. Senate hold up confirmation of Albert C. Beeson, who is President Eisenhower's choice for a vacancy on the National Labor Relations Board, they make their countrymen nervous. Their reason looks suspicious.

Beeson is being worked over by Democratic critics who charge he would be prejudiced against unions as an NLRB member because he wants to retain his pension rights from his present employer and therefore cannot resign from his job outright, though he is willing to withdraw from it.

If the senators were to carry this thesis far enough it would mean no ordinary citizen who must make a living could serve his government lest he show prejudice in favor of the source of his bread and butter.

Persons eligible for appointive posts would be narrowed down to professional public jobholders who have no careers outside the government. Since everybody on the outside must earn his bread and butter or his bread and oleo, whichever he prefers, government would be deprived of the services of some of its best people.

What purports to be a safeguard for government could become a booby trap for the public. Is it "conflicts of interest" the senators are trying to eliminate or outsiders who accept federal appointments?

Reds Should Not Call Tune

J. Edgar Hoover has told the House Appropriations Committee that Communists are issuing propaganda in favor of a five-power peace pact that would include Red China, U.S. trade with countries behind the Iron Curtain, repeal of the Smith Act, the Taft-Hartley Act and the Internal Security Act.

Because of Mr. Hoover's prestige as director of the FBI, his testimony will stiffen resistance to these proposals whenever and wherever they may be made. With his background of knowledge about the Communist conspiracy, Mr. Hoover would be the first to see how this type of automatic resistance might be used to hurt the United States sometime.

Take a hypothetical case.

Assume it might be helpful for the United States to call in its green money and issue blue currency containing a secret dye, in order to eliminate millions of dollars' worth of spurious currency. Assume the Communists knew this and began to demand it as part of their continuous barrage of propaganda, for the purpose of keeping the United States from doing it because it was something the Communist conspiracy was demanding.

The Reds should not call the tune on any issue in the United States by merely being on one side or the other. If everything were to turn on the single point of whether or not it is desired by the Communist conspiracy, the United States would have lost its power of decision

Democratic Disunity

By David Lawrence

Time for New Party Leadership Long Overdue

With Republicans striving hard to develop unity in their party, the big unanswered question in American politics today is when the Democrats are going to do the same thing.

The problem really is whether the Democratic party will take to heart the true meaning of its defeat in 1952 or whether it is going to insist stubbornly on pursuing the same ill-fated course and suffer further defeats.

The Democratic party has to choose between the discredited and depreciated leadership of former President Truman and a new leadership that will cover the prestige the Democratic party once had before it became the tool of special interests and the champion of privileged groups.

Today the Democratic party cannot count on the support of voters on the farms or independents in the cities because the party appears to be owned by labor-union bosses who furnish most of the campaign funds and campaign workers.

THE DEMOCRATIC party today cannot count on the support of the vast number of voters who think a coverup job was done by the Truman administration on Communists in the government. Nor is the party likely, without some evidence of repentance, to win the support of the citizens who think corruption and lax administrative practices were not ferreted out by the Truman administration.

The chief trouble with the Democratic party strategists is that they have not faced up to the necessity of ridding their party of Trumanism — a far worse form of demagoguery than McCarthyism as portrayed by the anti-McCarthyites.

It is ironical, for instance, to hear various Democratic leaders in Congress protesting indignantly about the "dastardly" attacks of a general nature on the Democratic party made by Republican speakers, though not a syllable of protest ever came from the same sources when Truman was going up and down the land in the last campaign making attacks on both the patriotism and integrity of Dwight Eisenhower.

TWO WRONGS, of course, do not make a right — and hence any attacks by Republicans today on Democrats as a party for being too soft on the Communists in government are as reprehensible as the attacks Truman has been making. There were many Democrats in Congress like Sen. McCarran who gave Communist sympathizers no quarter.

It sounds childish for certain Democratic spokesmen in Congress, on the other hand, to say they will not support some of Eisenhower's worthy legislative proposals just because some of his lieutenants are making speeches attacking the Democrats.

If the recommendations the President has made to Congress are really meritorious, it would seem illogical for any elected member of Congress to reject them just because of personal or political pique.

The truth is the Democratic party leadership has not repudiated the mistakes of the Truman administration. Instead of deploring the fact that Harry Dexter White was permitted to stay on in the government notwithstanding the damaging FBI reports of 1945 and 1946 and also Truman's two letters of commendation of White after the essential facts were avialable, the Democratic strategists have undertaken either to smear Attorney General Brownell personally or to pooh-pooh the charges altogether.

THE RIGHT approach should have been to condemn all the Harry Dexter Whites as having betrayed the confidence imposed in them and to point out the steps that were taken to eradicate Communists in government. This should never have been nor should it be a partisan political issue.

The Democratic party is still regarded by many people as a worthy institution which deserves to be given an opportunity some day to come into power in the executive as well as the legislative branches of the government.

To win such a victory the Democratic party cannot allow itself to become the party of socialist saboteurs who, under the pretense of being "liberal," want to bring on the economic chaos that would ultimately invite a destruction of human rights as well as property rights.

It is a curious thing that not a single Democrat anywhere who is being considered in the North as presidential timber has had the courage to adopt a conservatively liberal program or to take issue with the radicals in the party who now feel they can count on both Truman and Stevenson to keep the Democratic party on the radical side of the fence.

The Southern Democrats, moreover, have been treated with considerable contempt by the Northern radicals on the issue of civil rights—one of the most perplexing questions of all times and one on which genuine efforts to attain unity have been conspicuously lacking.

WITH REFERENCE to labor-management legislation, the viewpoint of Southern Democrats has been ignored in party councils, thus tending to force a coalition with Northern Republicans in Congress.

The Democratic party has been at its best with the conservative liberalism of Woodrow Wilson, which unfortunately was accepted only occasionally by the late president Roosevelt.

The time is long overdue for a new leader to emerge who can unite the Democratic party and rescue it from the extremists who act as if they have a permanent claim on the fight to make its policies. Usually new leadership emerges either among governors of states or members of the House and Senate.

There is no sign of such a leadership as yet anywhere — and the Democratic party is losing valuable time letting the public believe that it has premanently embraced Trumanism.

Paralysis of the Risibilities

By TRUMAN TWILL

A man sees a lot of strange things as he goes along:

The curse of the modern age is preoccupation with politics. Human beings will outgrow this and some day will look back on the antics of the old-timers with as much wonderment as we now look back at witch-burning.

The only important advance in material standards of living in the last quarter of a century has been the development of the frozen-food industry.

It is always surprising to find the smallest children of truly large families with bodies as sound and minds as bright as the first ones; nature is inexhaustible.

There are people who find cottage cheese disgusting yet can smack their lips over cucumbers and dishes prepared with sour cream.

More people than you could shake a stick at have never tumbled to the fact confusion and uproar in human affairs represent normalcy; that tranquility is a state longed for but never attained.

Chances are ten to one that anyone caught blowing off despondently about juvenile delinquency has no children of his own or has been out of contact with normal children too long to know how good they can be when they aren't bad.

More effect is made by one presidential admission of profound faith than by a hundred statements about public issues awaiting settlement. If President Eisenhower ever tries to behave like a professional officeholder it will be a fatal mistake because that is not what his countrymen expect him to do.

The rawest deal in sports is the way colleges furnish pro football and basketball players for the big leagues at no charge, often at public expense, while doing nothing for baseball worth the dry-cleaning bills incurred.

The weakest link in the endless chain of American enterprise is the shortage of management people with sense enough to know how to release the boundless energy of free men equipped with every known tool of production.

People who talk about the justice and injustice of taxes are either stupid or hypocritical because in taxation only one thing counts — can you get the money without so many complications the game won't be worth the candle?

Of all the absurdities spawned by the breakup of empire in Asia, the greatest is support in the name of freedom for the French and Dutch, last of the Asiatic empire builders to be put under the guns of the neo-nationalists.

If you're stuck with something you want to sell at an inflated price, start a rumor the price is going to go up because there's an impending shortage. The trick hadn't been tried since the OPA era but it still works, as witness the coffee panic of 1954.

Best thing to think about while battling snow is what it felt like last summer to face another two hours' work in heat so oppressive it made your head swim — what it felt like to brush flies off your face and to wake up in the ayem with your tongue hanging out from beat exhaustion.

And does anyone want to bet one against ten it wouldn't be possible to live without working another day by merely urging people to send in their dollars for the care and treatment of Trumanites Twillimus, a kind of creeping paralysis of the risibilities?

Bricker Plan Answers Objections

By Raymond Moley

This week's respite in the Senate debate on the various proposals of constitutional amendments on the treaty power offers a chance for laymen to examine the amended proposal of Sen. Bricker and his advisers.

Such an examination will show plainly that the Bricker supporters are willing to go to most ample lengths to meet the objections, mostly fictitious, of the President and the State Department people who are advising him. It also will show the narrow margin between the George amendment and the new Bricker version.

With that gap closed, there will be enough votes to pass an amendment, whether the administration agrees or not.

THE VITAL points in the new Bricker resolution, with some explanation of each, are as follows:

Section 2 simply asserts that "a provision of a treaty or other international agreement which conflicts with this Constitution shall not be of any force or effect." This was, in fact, in the proposed substitute offered at the instance of the administration last summer and introduced by Sen. Knowland.

Section 3 states that "a treaty or other international agreement shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation by Congress, unless in advising the consenting to a treaty the Senate, by a vote of two-thirds of the senators present and voting, shall provide that such treaty may become effective without legislation."

This is a modification of Section 2 of the old Bricker amendment. It drops the controversial "which" clause and substitutes the language that follows the word "unless."

WHAT THE first part of this means is, in lawyer's language, a statement that treaties and agreements shall not be "self-executing" so far as international law is concerned. This means that matters which are within the internal affairs of the nation and the states which treaties or agreements affect must be passed in the form of ordinary legislation by Congress.

The great hullabaloo about every agreement, etc., going to 48 states is eliminated. It means, in short, that the legislative power, which according to the Constitution "shall be vested in a Congress," shall not be exercised by the President and the Senate alone.

It then goes further in order to meet the opposition's objections that in some cases speed is necessary. It provides that the Senate may provide in such expeditious cases that legislation will be unnecessary.

Note that this proviso applies to treaties, not executive agreements. This provision more than meets the George proposal.

Section 4 merely provides that on the question of the ratification of a treaty the senators present and voting shall answer to a roll call and be recorded. This would prevent hasty action.

Last July, for example, the International Wheat Agreement was jammed through without a record vote. It has already cost us 600 million dollars and last month the Randall Commission, appointed by the President to report on foreign trade, roundly condemned it.

The way is now open to a peaceful solution of this controversy. The next move is up to the President.

On Salesmanship

By Frank Tripp

There are many kinds of salesmanship. Some are very subtle, some endure, some die aborning. But wherein the salesman sells himself, along with his merchandise, customers stick and follow him from mousetraps to locomotives.

Every time I need a suit I still remember Herman Strauss — and his derby hat. Before I was born he created a business that bears his name to this day. He met every customer at the door, watched the treatment he received and bade him goodbye when he left.

THE PRACTICE came out of days when he was alone in his tiny clothing store, when he knew the details of every transaction from morning til night, and stayed open evenings to accommodate his customers.

Fifty years later Herman Strauss had a big and modern store with a corps of salespeople, but he never stopped greeting the customers. To the end, he kept his own books and worked late into the night sending out the monthly bills in his own handwriting.

HE NEVER REMOVED his derby, as he stood at the doorway to direct traffic. This became an annoyance to his staff in the new flossy surroundings. Yet that derby had a pulling power equal to the best show window that the stores' expert ever dressed. Unbeknown, even to Herman, it was his master sales gadget.

One time, after I rated a reporter's raise of three a week, I felt I could afford a better suit. We hadn't begun to "pay while you wear" yet. Mr. Strauss met me at the door the day that I first dared enter his establishment.

HE TURNED ME over to a salesman, then kept his eyes and ears open. Presently he told the salesman, "Show him those in that rack." I told him I had seen, but couldn't afford them.

"I know, I saw," he said. "Try this one on again." It was the very suit I longed for.

"I can't pay for it," I told him.

"That looks fine on you," he insisted. "I want you to have it. Pay for it when you can."

These were new words to me, from a man who had never seen me before. They earned Mr. Strauss a pretty fair customer over the next 50 years.

I was more proud of that suit than any I've ever owned. I got to know Herman Strauss very well and long after reminded him of the risk he took.

"I never lost a penny on a customer that I had to force to take credit," laughed the wise old merchant.

THEN THERE WAS Billy Hoffman, who fed the reporters and most of the business neighborhood wonderful German food from Mrs. Hoffman's kitchen; fancy dishes, cheeses, and drinks, of course.

Billy's sales gadgets were a skull cap, a dice cup and a fanatic fondness for the great Bismarck's philosophy. The town's fancy fronts and imported chefs never hurt Billy's place.

He was always ready to shake for the drinks and careful not to be a too consistent winner, but he got the most trade out of frothing at the mouth and running out of English when we introduced a new jab at Bismarck. It was a daily show that the customers wouldn't miss.

Pretty soon Billy couldn't be around any more. He was home laughing how he used to keep the boys all stirred up about Bismarck —and his place went out of business.

Strike It Plenty Good

MC —Folks, I'm sure you'll be glad to know that on the last program when we had Eliza and Little Eva here, we raised enough money to buy off the bloodhounds and clear the river of ice. Eliza also won a sleigh, a chart of two-dozen rivers, a mink coat and a $2,000 ice-breaker. Tonight we have a wonderful little woman on the program, and her story is a sad one. What's your name?

The Guest — Cinderella. I'm so scared.

MC — Don't be nervous. Relax and tell us your story.

Cindy — Well, I'm just a wreck from sweeping, doing the washing and one thing and another. I need a change.

MC — Don't your stepsisters help you?

Cindy — Are you kiddin'? All they do is run around to grand balls. I'd like to go to a dance sometime.

MC — You certainly need a dance and we want to help you. What's stopping you?

Cindy — Well, I need a few things.

MC —Tell the TV audience all about it.

Cindy — All I've got to go to a dance is some white mice, a few lizards, a pumpkin and an old calico wrapper. I could use a gown, a coach and eight white horses.

MC — And you've tried to get them?

Cindy — I've looked everywhere. Not a gown, coach, or horse any place, not even on the Groucho Marx program.

MC (as phone rings). — Who? Morris Brackenbridge, Passaic, N.J.? You're sending over a gold coach and seven white horses!. . .And the best you can do to make it eight is to send a black one?

Cindy — Oh, that's wonderful.

MC —What else could you use?

Cindy — I've always wanted a glass slipper.

MC — You've asked your sisters repeatedly for a glass slipper, haven't you?

Cindy — Yes. All they ever hand me is another BROOM!

MC (on the phone again) — Who's. . . Chidsey Groobish? Canarsie? You're sending a year's supply of BROOMS!!!

Cindy — I guess Mr. Groobish wasn't paying attention. I got brooms, I need glass slippers.

MC (on phone after another interval) — Who? . . .Mrs. Kreevish of Fall River? . . You want to give Cinderella a power-mower which will solve her grass-clipping problem?

Cindy — I said glass slippers, not grass clippers.

MC — Just a minute. . .The Tiptop Shoe Company of Duluth is sending you 50 glass slippers!

Cindy — Boy, will Prince Charming have trouble picking up and tracing 49 slippers!

MC — Now isn't there something else you need to make you happy?

Cindy — Yes, I hate to leave a ball at the stroke of twelve.

MC — Don't worry about that. The Pugsley Hardware Company will paint the ballroom clock inside out with its hard-finish nonrust paint, so nobody can tell time by it.

Cindy — Oh, thanks so much.

MC — Just a moment. The Pugsley Company wants to know if it could paint your stepsisters inside and out, too?

Cindy — COULD THEY!!

It has been proposed to the President that honorable and dishonorable discharges or dismissals be granted by the government for the protection of public servants who, as a result of terminated services, may be confused with those bounced for disloyalty or as poor security risks.

In view of the long tendency to cover up oustings by sweety-pie letters, wouldn't there be politicians who would try to sweeten up even the dismissal of a baddie? For instance:

Dear Sir: Enclosed find your dishonorable discharge with my sincere regrets and all good wishes for your future. You have served many years and worked faithfully for this dishonorable severance and your zeal in attaining it has been conspicuous.

Allow me to say that you are one of the best men ever fired on evidences of untrustworthiness and if I can do anything further for you, do not hesitate to let me know.

Mrs. Arch Liles

KENTON — Funeral services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Emma Liles, 75, of Kenton, who died Monday morning at San Antonio Hospital after a three-month illness.

The service was held at the Schindewolf - Steiner - Stevens Funeral Home and burial was made at Fairview Cemetery in McDonald Township.

Mrs. Liles, was born in Hardin County on Sept. 12, 1878, and had lived her entire life in Hardin County. She was married to Arch Liles on July 24, 1897, and was the daughter of Horace and Anna Wells Wilson.

A member of Silver Creek Methodist Church since 1913, she attended the Epworth Methodist Church here.

Survivors include: her husband; two sons, Lemuel H. Liles, and Foster Liles, both of Belle Center; three daughters, Mrs. Ross Smith of Belle Center, Mrs. Helen Oates of Kenton and Mrs. Henry Oates of Toledo; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Patterson of Benton Ridge, Mrs. Adda Ralston of Michigan; and three brothers, Arthur Wilson of Belle Center, Dow Wilson of Rawson and William Wilson of Findlay.

Mrs. D. M. Fink

UPPER SANDUSKY — Mrs. D. M. Fink, 72, of near Upper Sandusky, died suddenly at her home early Tuesday morning. She had been in failing health for 12 years.

Mrs. Ida May Fink was born August 1, 1881, in Crawford County, the daughter of Martin and Charity Stover Baker. She was united in marriage near Upper Sandusky on Aug. 25, 1898, with D. M. Fink, who survives with two children, Mrs. Evelyn Coates and Emory Fink both at home; two grandchildren; and a brother, William H. Baker of Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. Fink was a member of the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church in Mifflin Township and of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. from Wesley Chapel Church with the pastor, Rev. Floyd Stevens, officiating. Interment will be made in Old Mission Cemetery. The body will remain at the Lucas Funeral Home here where friends may call after 7 p.m.

Betty K. Wagner

GALION — Graveside services were held at 2 p.m., today, in Fairview Cemetery for Betty Kristin Wagner, infant daughter of Merwin W. and Betty M. Reed Wagner of Galion.

Rev. Philip E. Auer, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church, had charge of services, and burial was in charge of the Snyder Funeral Home.

The baby was stillborn at City Hospital, Tuesday at 1:24 p.m.

Surviving are the parents; a sister, Betty Christine, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Fernley Reed, all of Youngstown, and paternal great grandmother, Mrs. Ida Linsenmann of Galion.

Girl Friend Killer Gets Manslaughter Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—A Chinese restaurant worker who killed his girl friend last October and then cut up her body has been given a prison sentence of from 7½ to 20 years for manslaughter.

James Lew, 34, had pleaded guilty to the charge last December.

Police said Lew stabbed the white woman—who used the name Kay Gibson but was known as Florence Pearl Gibbon in her home town of Worcester, Mass.—after she slapped his face in an argument over another man.

Senators Say Agreement Broken

Manpower Help for Indochina Scored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) charges the Eisenhower administration with breaching an agreement to consult key congressmen of both parties on defense-foreign policy moves.

He says the Senate Armed Services Committee, of which he is a member, wasn't told in advance about the sending of 200 American Air Force mechanics to Indochina. Chairman Saltonstall says he first learned of it in the newspapers, but has been assured by Secretary of Defense Wilson that the "200 will be out of Indochina by June 12."

TAXES—A victory for the administration's tax revising program is reported by members of the House Ways and Means Committee, who says the tax-writing group will turn down only one of the 25 changes asked by President Eisenhower.

—:—

BRAMBLETT—Lawyers for Rep. Bramblett (R-Calif) promise a legal fight right up to the Supreme Court, if needed, to overturn his conviction on charges of falsifying his congressional office payroll in a salary kickback scheme.

—:—

WARREN—The nomination of Earl Warren to be chief justice of the Supreme Court bogs down in the Senate Judiciary Committee in a dispute over whether he needs an FBI check. The Justice Department reportedly believes there shouldn't be an FBI probe on any man chosen to be chief justice. Some committee members are said to feel a report is particularly needed on a chief justice, since he's more important than the lower officials who customarily get FBI investigations. The argument apparently is over procedure rather than Warren's own fitness.

COFFEE—Chairman Beall (R-Md) of a Senate coffee investigating subcommittee promises full publicity on coffee speculators if the probers find they helped shoot coffee prices skyward.

Walker Pleads Not Guilty of Criminal Attack

Harold D. Walker, 25, of 376 Nye St., charged with criminally assaulting an 8-year-old Marion girl pleaded not guilty in Marion Municipal Court this morning.

He also waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond.

Walker was arrested Feb. 1 by city police and charged with attacking the girl after she was twice taken to City Hospital for treatment, on Jan. 29 and 30, the second time in critical condition.

Police reported they were called to the hospital the first time but were told at that time the girl was hurt in a fall.

When she was returned to the hospital the next day, police were again called and in the course of their investigation arrested Walker on the assault charge.

At that time, Walker was free on bond pending the start of a one-to-seven year term in Mansfield Reformatory on a grand larceny charge. He had pleaded guilty to this charge in Marion County Common Pleas Court. He was given a month to set his affairs in order before the start of the jail term.

In 1953, the U.S. death rate was 9.6 per 1,000 population, about the same as in 1952, but because of the aging population, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians suggest that figure represents a new low.

Lodge Activities

Plans were completed for a joint meeting with the post on Feb. 22, at a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 162. Monday night in the Legion Dugout.

Mrs. Annabel Smith presided and a review of last year's activities was given by Mrs. Jane Crissinger, who served as historian for 1953. Miss Opal McMahon, Americanism chairman, reported four more flags had been purchased and will be presented to Vernon Heights elementary school. Mrs. Crissinger was appointed chairman for the annual poppy sale and Mrs. Bert Dial was named chairman to arrange for a runmage sale. A contribution of five dollars was made to the Elizabeth Clark scholarship fund.

A supper at 6:30 o'clock will precede the program at the joint meeting with the post. A program on Americanism will include a talk by Dr. Gerald Strauss, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post and pictures of the national convention at St. Louis will be shown.

Refreshments and a social hour followed the meeting.

Colored movies of the state convention held at Cleveland were shown by Mrs. Florence Weston at a meeting of Morral Temple No. 429, Pythian Sisters, Monday night. Mrs. Ruth Graham, most excellent chief, presided. Plans were made to send a basket of fruit to Bill McWherter, a patient in the Columbus Tuberculosis Hospital. Plans also were made to go to Columbus in April. Valentine appointments were carried out in refreshments served by a committee composed of Mrs. Betty Washburn, Mrs. Evelyn Thacker, Mrs. Marie Hooper and Mrs. Fern Christiansen. Practice for inspection will be held at the next meeting March 8.

Committees were appointed by the councilor, Mrs. Eilleen Cocherl, at a meeting of Mary A. Canfield Council No. 210, Daughters of America, Thursday night. A dinner, given by the losing team in a recent membership drive, preceded the meeting.

The committees were named as follows: Mrs. Leona Barnhard, chairman, Mrs. Gladys Moes, Mrs. Edna Riddle, Mrs. Anna Belle Ganson, Mrs. Cordelia Starner and Mrs. Avonel Smith, good order; Mrs. Martha Bisdorf, chairman, Mrs. Susie Sharrock, Mrs. Sally Gilmore, Mrs. Edna Christ, Mrs. Beryl Faust, Mrs. Pearl Burrell and Mrs. Elva Bowman, orphans and home fund; Mrs. Essie Thompson, chairman, Mrs. Lola Gracely and Mrs. Bertha Sheppard, greetings and friendship; Mrs. Lucille Cocherl, chairman, Mrs. Glendora White and Mrs. Rose Mooney, entertainment; Mrs. Ruby Bogart, chairman, Mrs. L. Cocherl, Mrs. Frances Wilson, Mrs. Eilleen Cocherl, Mrs. Marylin Benson, social; Mrs. Leona Barnhard, gifts; Mrs. Ruby Bogart, chairman, Mrs. Beryl Faust and Mrs. Evelyn McCombs, delinquent; Mrs. Essie Thompson, Mrs. Gladys Moes, Mrs. Beryl Faust, Mrs. Hazel Thomasson, funeral; Mrs. Glendora White, chairman, Mrs. Rose Mooney and Mrs. Edna Riddle, helping hand; Mrs. Edna Christ and Mrs. Beryl Faust, flag bearers.

During the evening, members were entertained with a skit crowning Mrs. Rose Mooney queen, during which she was presented gifts for securing the most new members during the membership drive. Mrs. Mooney also was complimented with a linen shower. Games were played with honors going to Mrs. Beryl Faust, Mrs. Avonel Smith, Mrs. Ruby Bogart and Mrs. Lola Gracely. Out of town guests included Mrs. Bertha Kelly, district deputy, Mrs. Margaret Lusk and Mrs. Mabel Longsworth, of the Golden Link Council of Galion.

Rotarians Hear Discussion of College's Role

OWU Professor Talks On Preparation for Careers in Business

The role played by the liberal arts college in preparing a young man for a business career was discussed by Dr. Richard R. Gay, director of religious activities and instructor of religious education at Ohio Wesleyan University, at the weekly meeting of the Marion Rotary Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Dr. Gay's address, "Preparation in College, was the second in a February series on the role of education in preparing youth for business and life. The series was openend last week by E. E. Holt, superintendent of Springfields schools and former Marion superintendent. It will be continued next week by Dr. J. Gordon Howard, president of Otterbein College.

Tuesday's speaker pointed out that a liberal arts education is not necessarily a guarantee of success in business. However, he developed the theme that such an education does provide preparation for a eta ihtkn itng oph ot esu nihahttt-e well-rounded life and stimulates thinking to the point that the interested student is better prepared to grasp his business opportunities when they arise. He said the liberal arts graduate should be able to understand what people expect from him and consequently to direct his energies into paths of success.

Before joining the faculty at Ohio Wesleyan, Dr. Gay was minister of education and associate pastor of the First Methodist Church of Pittsburg, Pa. While in Pittsburgh from 1946-50, he served the students at Pennsylvania College for Women, Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Pittsburgh, and was on the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh as a lecturer in the field of marriage preparation.

During the meeting, three members were elected to the board of directors for three-year terms, effective July 1. They are Clare Williams, William Hamor and Lewis Ashworth. With present members of the board, they will meet Feb. 23 to elect officers for the new year.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were C. F. Sweeney of Lima, George R. Cryder of Delaware, and Allen L. Beal of Columbus. Guests were John Dowler of Marion and William Isaly of Columbus.

Student reporter from the senior English class at St. Mary High School was Sam Walston.

$1,700 Verdict Returned By Probate Court Jury

A Probate Court jury late Tuesday evening returned a verdict of $1,700 for E. Merley and Emma Sipes for right of way and damages connected with land sought by the Ohio Power Company of Canton.

The jury, after a two-day hearing, awarded Mr. and Mrs. Sipes $600 for the right of way and $1,100 for damages to the land located in Richland Township.

The power company sought the land to complete installation of electric power lines between Mt. Vernon and Kenton. It was represented by the Canton law firm of Day, Cope, Ketterer, Raley and Wright and the Marion firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely.

Carter M. Patton, local attorney, represented Mr. and Mrs. Sipes. Probate Judge E. J. Ruzzo heard the case.

DRIVERS' TESTS CANCELLED

No drivers' examinations will be given here Friday or on Feb. 22 in Upper Sandusky, Cpl. D. M. DeWalt of the local highway patrol post announced today. The regularly scheduled exams will not be held due to this Friday being Lincoln's birthday and Feb. 22 being Washington's birthday.

WCTU Members Work On Overseas Projects

An all-day meeting of the Florence Richards WCTU was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ray Lehman on Windsor St. with a covered dish dinner at noon. Prayer at the table was by Mrs. Harry Green. Members spent the work time sewing a layette for the Save the Children Fderation, an overseas relief organization.

During business, Mrs. James Barkley was chosen as recording secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Leona Sanderson who died. The group voted contributions to the Frances Willard Memorial Fund and to the Lillian Stevens Legislative Fund. Announcement was made of a Marion County WCTC workshop set for Feb. 17 at the community rooms of the West Town Branch of National City Bank.

Devotions were by Mrs. O. B. Christ, and prayer was by Mrs. Fred Needles. Mrs. Ralph Good, legislative director, talked on her work, and she read a letter from Mrs. Esther Madsen, state president. It was voted to fill sunshine bags for men at the Veterans Hospital in Dayton.

Readings were by Mrs. Charles Clark on Frances Willard, anniversary of whose death is Feb. 17, by Mrs. Needles on Abraham Lincoln, and by Mrs. Green, Mrs. R. R. Thornberry, and Mrs. Christ. Mrs. Thornberry and Mrs. George Keefer assisted in serving.
